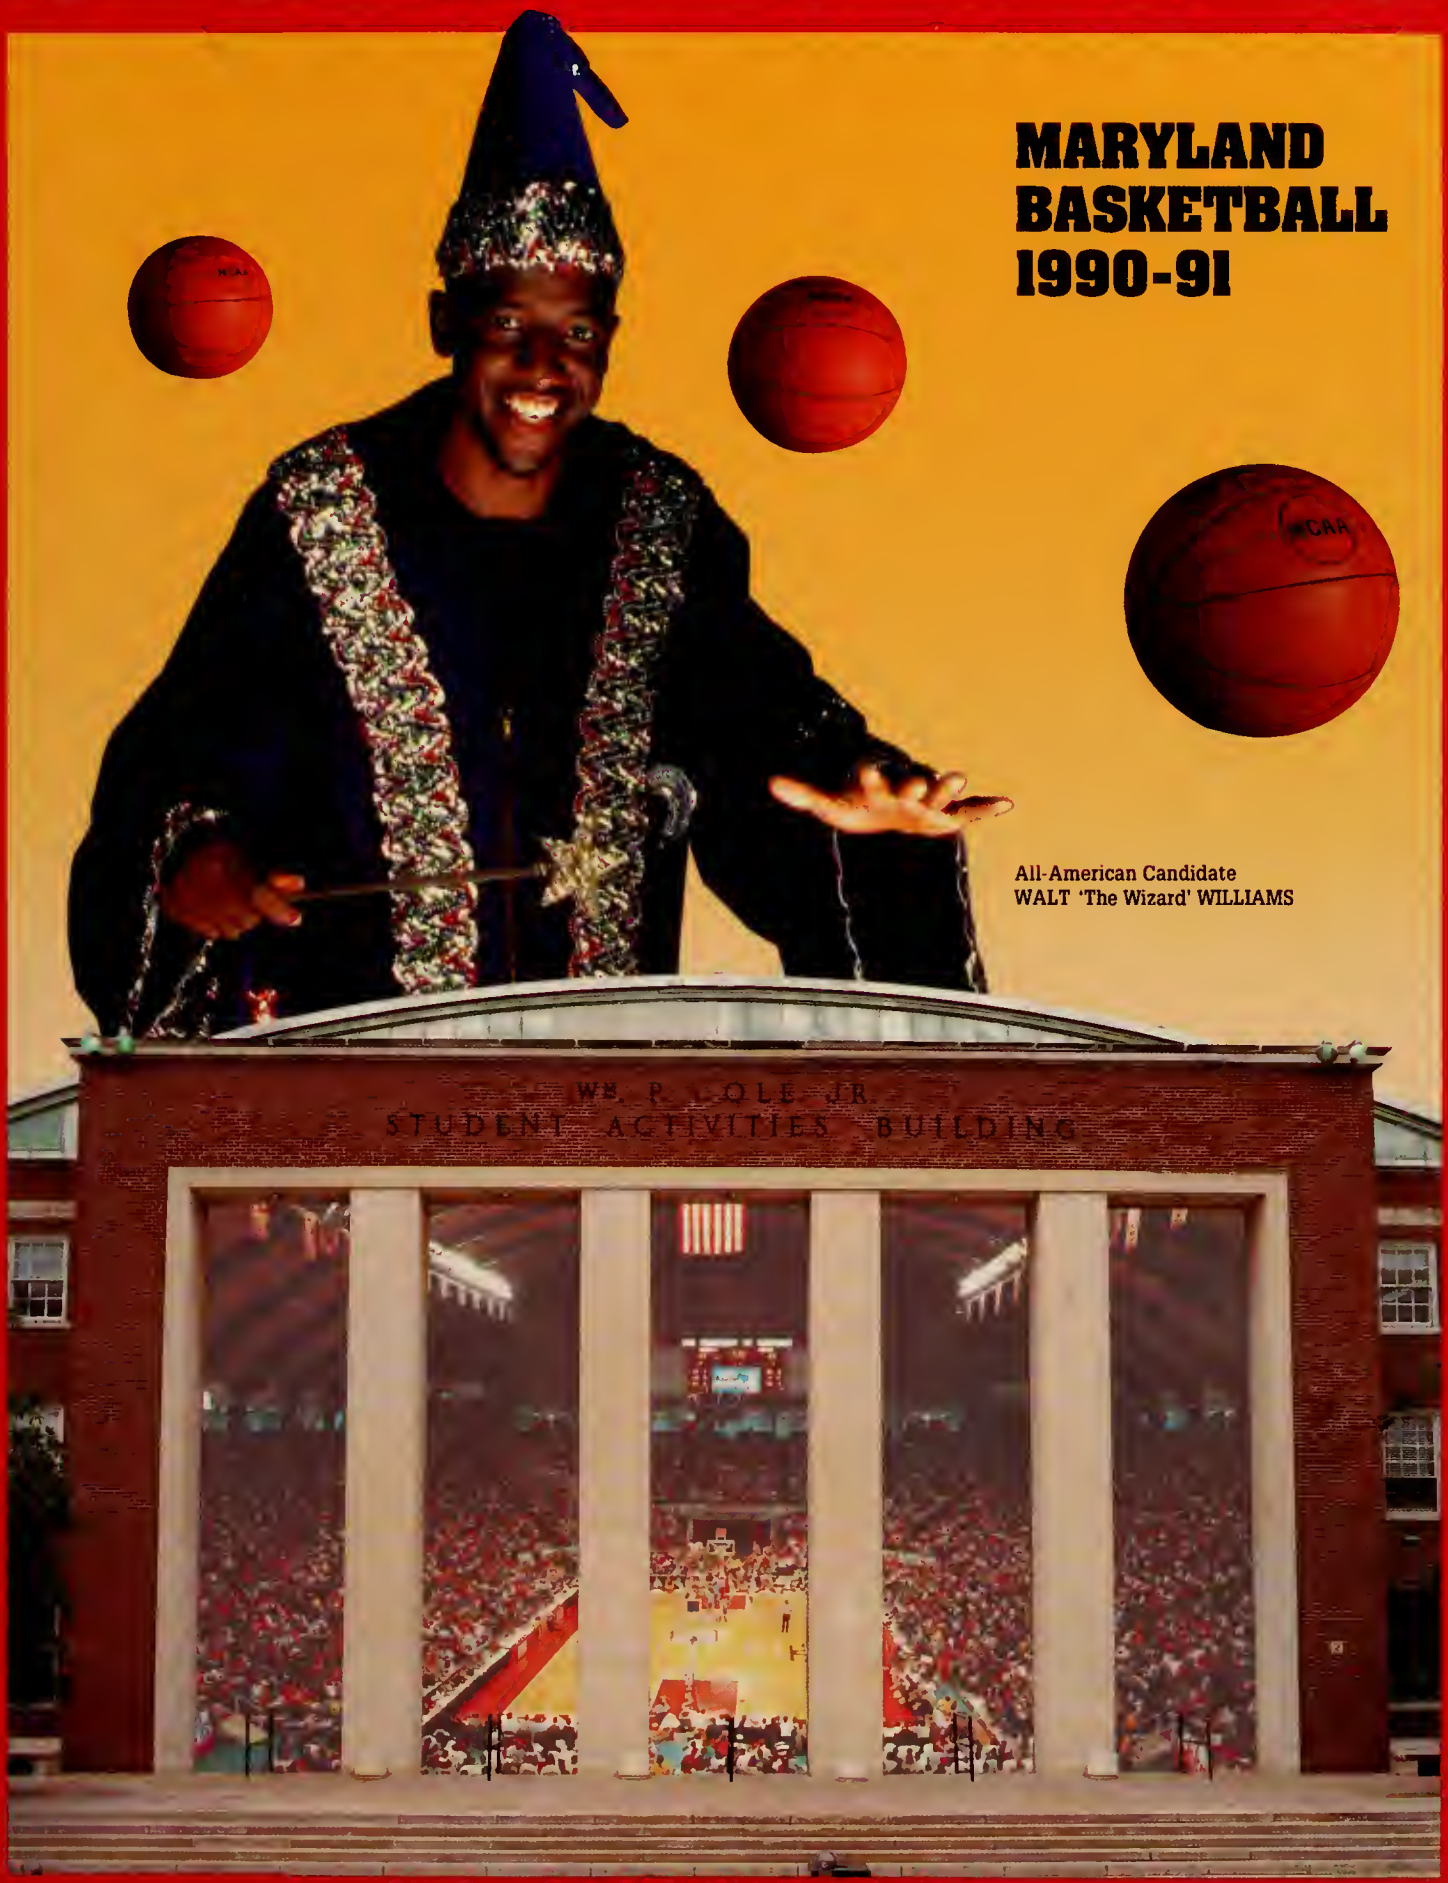
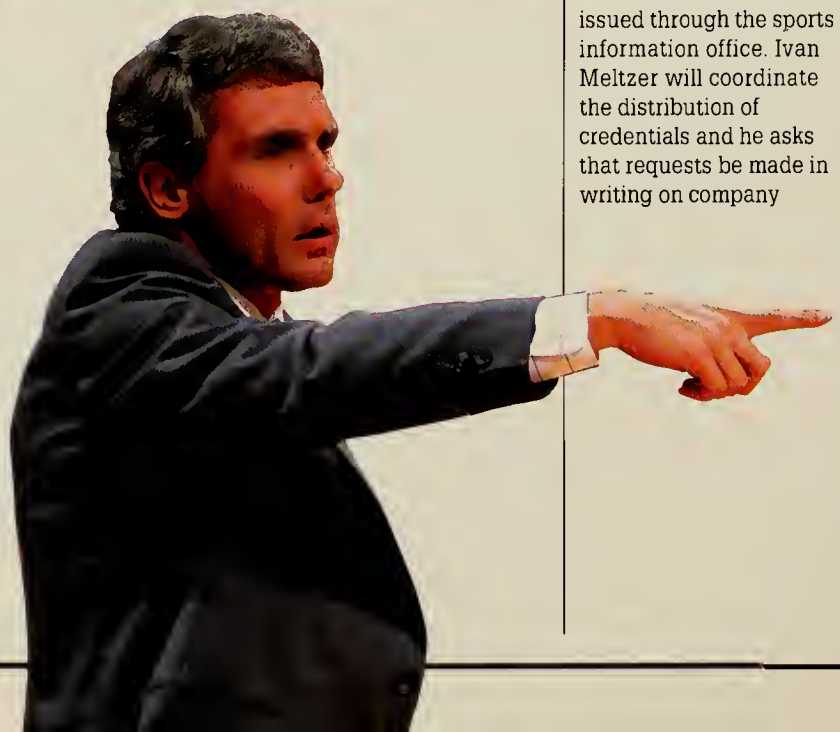
MARYLAND BASKETBALL 1990-91



All-American Candidate
WALT 'The Wizard' WILLIAMS

Come Inside and Feel the Pride!

Tri-Captain Cedric Lewis



WELCOME TO MARYLAND

Come Inside and Feel the Pride. It's more than a slogan. It's an invitation to experience Maryland Basketball.

Head Coach Gary Williams' Terps shook the Cole Field House rafters last season. The old, hallowed hall was filled with thrills, filled with excitement, filled with pride.

The 1990–91 edition of the Terps is promising. Walt Williams brings his wizardry back to the Cole court. Sharpshooting Matt Roe will put on display one of the nation's best outside shots. Cedric Lewis will patrol the paint as few shot blockers can.

Those three tri-captains have pride in the themselves, pride in the program and pride in the school. So does the head coach, whose pride in this school comes as an alumnus as well as an employee. Come inside and feel it. Welcome to Maryland Basketball.

Before Your Visit

Game credentials are issued through the sports information office. Ivan Meltzer will coordinate the distribution of credentials and he asks that requests be made in writing on company letterhead at least four days prior to the game. It is perfectly acceptable to relay a credential request via fax. Our new fax number is (301) 314–9094. When a request is received well in advance, the credential and an appropriate parking pass will be mailed to the media representative.

Photographers, too, need to make their requests for credentials at least four days in advance. Again, faxed requests are fine. Photographers should note that the Cole Field House newly-installed lights are color balanced for daylight. An exposure setting of /250 at f2.8 has been found to work well with ASA 400 film and normal processing. With Cole's illuminating lighting system, there now are limits placed on the number of sets of strobe lights that will be allowed in Cole. If you wish to hang strobes, alert Ivan in the sports information office well in advance of the game for approval.

Members of the press corps wishing to order telephone service need to contact C&P Telephone Company at least two weeks prior to the game. The Cole Field House account representative is Karen Donaldson and can be reached at (301) 852–9900.

General Interview Policy

Interviews with student-athletes must be arranged through the sports information office. Either Ivan, Joe Blair or Herb Hartnett will be happy to set up one-on-one interviews. They do request, however, 24 hours advance notice to insure the student-athlete's availability. This one-day notice policy also holds for brief pre-practice interviews. The student-athletes' class schedules vary daily and often particular players are not available immediately prior to practice. In those instances, players will be made available after practice. Student-athletes will return phone calls when requested. Their home phone numbers will not be distributed. Interviews will not be arranged through basketball office.

Interviews with Coach Gary Williams also should be arranged in advance through the sports information office. Coach Williams typically returns phone calls in the early afternoon hours. Coach will make himself available for brief interviews on the court each day prior to practice.

Practices are open to the media with few exceptions. The team generally practices from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Weekend practice schedules vary and if media representatives wish to come out on weekends they should contact the sports information office ahead of time. Still and electronic cameramen are welcome at practice provided they do not interfere with practice.

Game Day

Because of the renovations to Byrd Stadium, Press Parking

this year will be lots Z and 1, which are both west of Cole Field House adjacent to the Cole Tennis Courts. Please be advised, parking spaces will be at a premium and the media is encouraged to arrive early. For convenience sake, it is suggested that whenever possible media park in the lower portions of Lot Z and Lot 1, as those locations offer more direct access to the press entrance, which is at the back door of Cole Field House. Maryland's home weekday night games all begin at 7:30 p.m., which means the immediate campus area will be crowded with Terp basketball revelers, and night school students, so plan your schedule accordingly.

Press credentials that were not mailed are left at press will call/press entrance, which is located at the back door of Cole Field House inside the service parking area on Stadium Drive.

There is a working press room one level above the court in the wrestling team lounge. Pre-game and halftime food and beverage service is available in that room, as is all pre-game notes, media guides and auxiliary game information.

Press seating is located on along the west sideline of the court. A seating chart is posted each game outside the working press room. For help in locating your seat, please ask a member of the sports information office.

Photographers' floor access is governed by Atlantic Coast Conference policy. Photographers, both still and electronic, must shoot from the baselines at the Northwest (Maryland team bench end/press row side) and the Southeast corners of the court. When the visiting team does not travel with cheerleaders, the Southwest side will be open to photographers as well. Please note that only game photographers — no assistants, producers, runners, etc. —will have access to the floor areas.

Post-game coaches interviews are held in the cozy basketball lounge, adjacent to the Maryland lockerroom. Coaches from both competing teams — winner first — are brought to the interview area. Following coach Williams' post-game remarks, the Maryland lockerroom is open to all credentialed media for a brief period. The visiting team's lockerroom access policy is determined by officials of that school.

Statistics packets, including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores, and post-game coaches quotes are compiled following every Maryland game and made available to the media both at press row and in the working press room.

TERP TABLE

The Maryland Men's Basketball Media Guide was written and edited by Ivan Meltzer. Editorial assistance and recommendations provided by the entire sports information staff — Herb Hartnett, joe f. blair, Chuck Walsh, Dee Stough and Kris Klick. Layout and design by Dave Pfeiffer of Presstar Printing, Inc., who took a keen interest in this job from the beginning and almost never lost patience with it. The book was printed at Presstar and no amount of thanks could possibly do justice to the time and effort put in on this project by Bill, Joel, Kathy, Kathy, Rusty and the gang. Cover photos were courtesy of Edwin Mahan and Lars Gelfan. Interior photos were by Larry Crouse, Gelfan, Mitchell Layton, Mahan, and Bruce Schwartzman. Special thanks to Charlie Guillette of Colonial Lithograph for his original design, from which this year's book was developed. As always, the sports information office is indebted to the University's Paula Mandelman for her assistance.

University President

William E. Kirwan

After more than 25 years of service as a professor and administrator at the University of Maryland at College Park, Dr. William E. Kirwan was appointed president on February 1, 1989.

Dr. Kirwan has played a major role in determining the direction of Maryland as it rises to become one of the nation's best public universities. Under his leadership, it recently developed a $150 million, five-year plan to enhance college Park.

Dr. Kirwan joined the university in 1964 as an assistant professor of mathematics. He rose steadily through the faculty ranks as associate professor (1968-1972), professor (1972-present), and chair of the Department of Mathematics (1977-1981).

In 1981, he was appointed vice chancellor for academic affairs, College Park's chief academic post. From August to November 1982, Dr. Kirwan served as acting chancellor, returning to his position as vice chancellor when Dr. John Slaughter was appointed chancellor of College Park. As vice chancellor, Dr. Kirwan raised admission standards, increased the number of merit scholarships and graduate fellowships, and established an academic planning process.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of numerous honorary and professional societies, including Phi Beta Kappa, the American Mathematical Society, and the Mathematical Association of America. He is the co-editor of the book "Advances in Complex Analysis", and the author of many published articles on mathematical research. He served as the editor of the Proceedings of the American Mathematical Society from 1977 to 1985. Currently, he chairs the Mathematical Sciences in the Year 2000 Committee, a task force created by the National Research Council to improve mathematics education at the nation's colleges and universities during the next decade.

Born in Louisville, Kentucky on April 14, 1938, Dr. Kirwan received a bachelor's degree in mathematics from the University of Kentucky in 1960. He holds master's (1962) and Ph.D. (1964) degrees in mathematics from Rutgers University.

Dr. Kirwan and his wife, Patricia, have a son who received his bachelor's and master's degrees in architecture from College Park, and a daughter who currently is a student at the university.

Dr. Donald N. Langenburg is the newly appointed chancellor.

ANDY GEIGER

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Athletic Director

Ferdinand A. (Andy) Geiger, whose tenure as Athletic Director at Stanford University elevated him to the top rank of athletic administrators, was named on September 7, 1990, to direct the athletic program at Maryland by College Park President William E. Kirwan. Geiger assumed his new duties on October 1.

Geiger oversaw a renaissance of Stanford athletics. During his tenure, Stanford's 29-sport program won 27 national collegiate championships in 11 years, the most won by any NCAA Division One school. He also realigned the Stanford athletic program to dramatically increase fund-raising and to better external affairs. Stanford's on-field success was accomplished without sacrificing its place among the top academic schools.

At Maryland, Geiger directs a 23-sport program that has a proud history of having won more ACC titles than any school. He immediately will direct a $30 million refurbishment of College Park facilities, and will give priority to a study of departmental structure and policies, and continued improvement of academic performance by student-athletes.

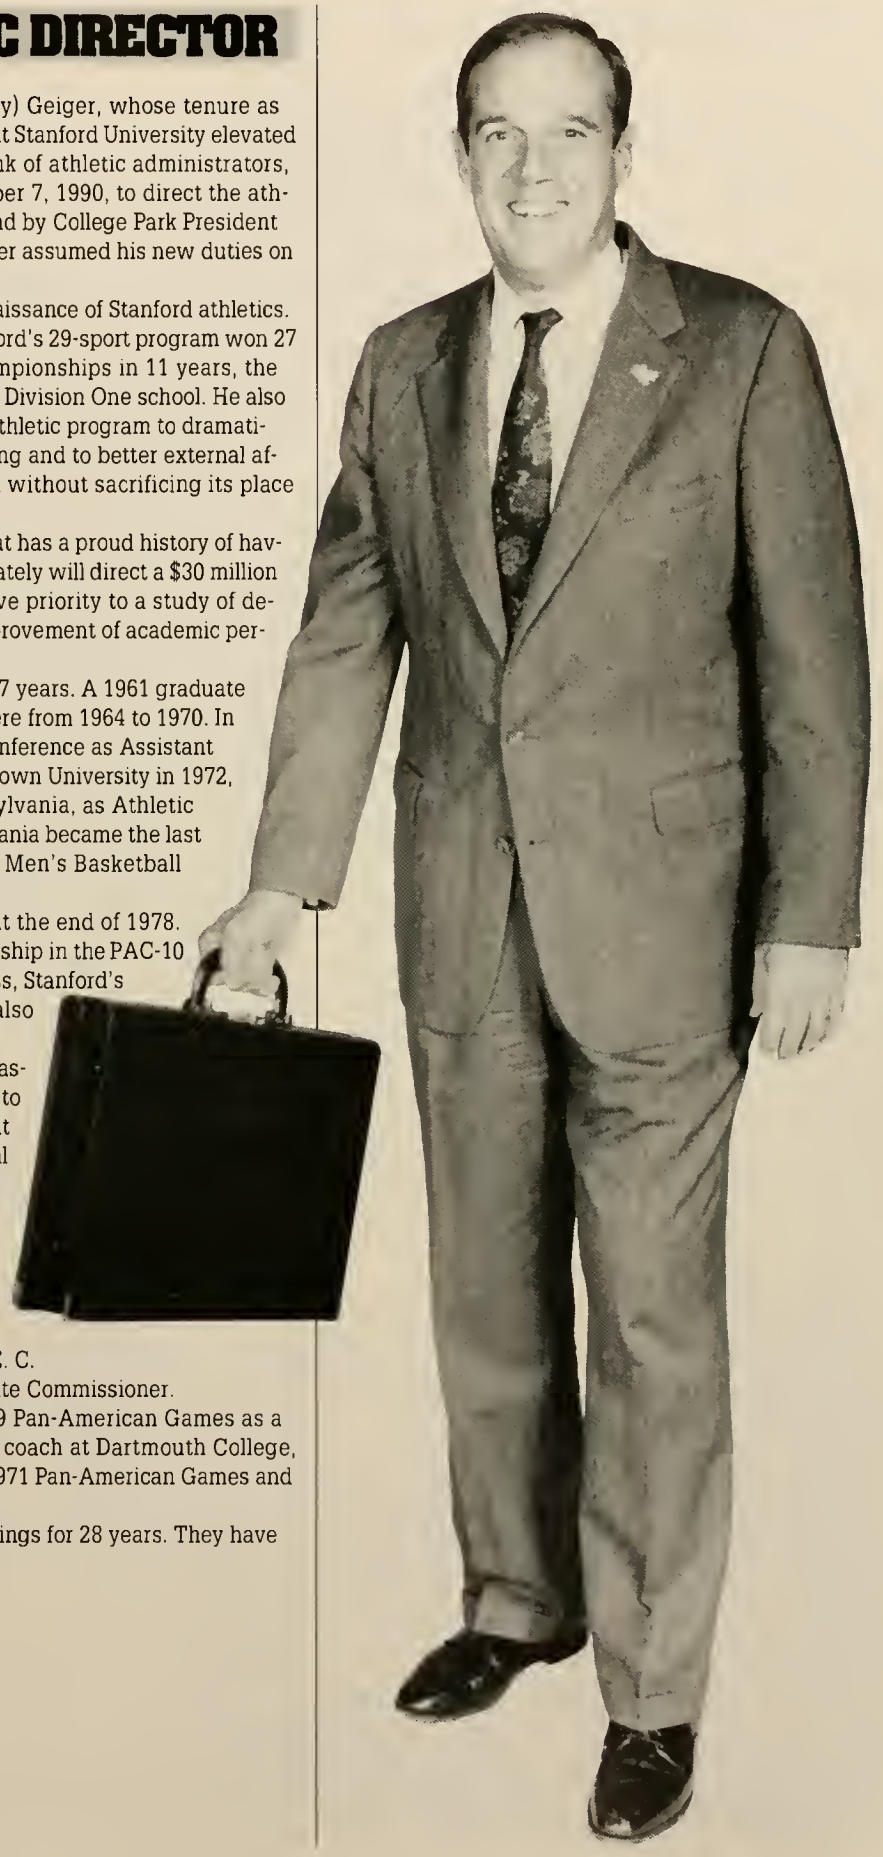
Geiger, 51, has been an athletic administrator for 27 years. A 1961 graduate of of Syracuse, he was Assistant Athletic Director there from 1964 to 1970. In 1970, he moved to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic conference as Assistant Commissioner. He was named Athletic Director at Brown University in 1972, and he moved to another Ivy League school, Pennsylvania, as Athletic Director in 1975. During his final year there, Pennsylvania became the last Ivy school to qualify for the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship.

Geiger was named Athletic Director at Stanford at the end of 1978. He guided the Cardinal to a position of athletic leadership in the PAC-10 Conference, and in addition to its NCAA team success, Stanford's athletes won 96 NCAA individual championships, also the most by any school.

Geiger was a member of the NCAA Division One Basketball Tournament Committee for six years, helping to initiate many of the dramatic advances in tournament structure. He also was a member of the NCAA Special Committee on Reorganization, and served as chair on several other committees—the NCAA Water Polo Committee, the PAC-10 Television Committee for 11 years, the Men's Administrative Committee of the Conference, and he founded and chaired the Committee on Championships. He also served on the PAC-10 Compliance Committee, and he chaired the E. C. A. C. Committee on Infractions when he was Associate Commissioner.

An oarsman at Syracuse, he competed in the 1959 Pan-American Games as a member of the U. S. team. He was a freshman crew coach at Dartmouth College, and later served as manager of the U. S. crew at the 1971 Pan-American Games and as secretary of the U. S. Olympic Rowing Committee.

Geiger has been married to the former Eleanor Rollings for 28 years. They have two children, Phillip and Gregory.



THE UNIVERSITY AT COLLEGE PARK

The University of Maryland College Park is the cornerstone of the 11 school Maryland state system of four year colleges. Chartered in 1856, Maryland College Park is situated on a 1300 acre campus nine miles north of Washington, D.C., and in close proximity to Maryland's Capital of Annapolis and the state's largest city, Baltimore. Acres of lawns and tall shade trees accompany the 335 major buildings at Maryland College Park. It is one of the finest universities in the nation.

A charter member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, Maryland's athletic roots are in the old Southern Intercollegiate Conference that encompassed schools from the Deep South north to Maryland.

After that conference split up in 1932, Maryland joined with traditional Mid-Atlantic and Near South rivals to form the Southern Conference. In 1953, seven traditional rivals left that league to form the ACC. Maryland has been ACC football champions eight times.

From its pre-Civil War roots as the state's first agricultural college, and its designation soon after as one of America's original land grant institutions, to its officially mandated status in 1988 as the "flagship" institution of the state's 11-university system, the University of Maryland at College Park has emerged as one of the nation's foremost public institutions of higher education.

In such disciplines as engineering, computer science, physics, economics, and mathematics, College Park has attracted national and international recognition, placing it among the best of its peers. In the social sciences and humanities, in business and the arts, as well, the university has been widely acclaimed for the quality of its faculty and programs.

The 11th largest university in the United States, College Park undergraduate enrollment last year was 24,473. Its students pursue 122 majors for undergraduates and 88 programs for graduate students. Courses are taught by more than 2,000 full-time faculty, many of whom are internationally known scholars and researchers.

Over the past several years the average SAT scores of entering freshmen have soared to the highest in university history. As part of its commitment to enhancing undergraduate education, the university has reduced undergraduate enrollment, improved faculty-student ratios, raised admissions standards, revamped the honors program, strengthened advising, supported student research and encouraged numerous innovations in teaching. Along with the expanded emphasis on improving the learning environment for undergraduate students, the university has placed the highest priority on attracting more minority students and transforming the academic climate for women.

At the same time, the university attracts some of the nation's outstanding research scholars to its faculty. College Park ranks fourth in the nation in total federal research and development funding among public universities without a medical school, and the faculty has been awarded numerous Guggenheim, Sloan and Fulbright fellowships. In addition, since its' inception in 1984, the highly coveted National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award has gone to 17 younger College Park faculty members.

Home to dozens of specialized centers and institutes that focus on areas as diverse as global climate change, international security, advanced helicopter design, super computers, the ecology of the Chesapeake Bay, Renaissance and Baroque studies, and innovative approaches to systems engineering. College Park is a hub of research and academic activity for the state, the region and the nation.

It is also a leader in providing technical assistance to businesses and government agencies as well as a catalyst for technology transfer and economic development within the state. From agricultural economics and artificial intelligence to regional and urban planning and the training of tomorrow's teachers, the university is a rich source of expertise for meeting the needs of both the public and private sector.

On the eve of a new century, the University of Maryland at College Park looks forward to the year 2000 as an institution of vigor and vitality, committed to continuing its role of helping stimulate and strengthen the intellectual, economic and cultural well-being of the students and citizens it serves.

College Park Leadership

College Park is home of a variety of exceptional research facilities, including a computer vision laboratory; a full-scale low velocity wind tunnel, a 500 liter computer controlled fermentation system for research in bioprocess scale-up programs, the Center for Automation Research; and a quiescent plasma device (Q machine) for plasma research. Such major facilities as the Engineering Research Center, the Systems Research Center, and the new Center for Global Change conduct research that is especially significant to the state and the nation.

In the 1990's, College Park will be the home of one of the nation's most important research facilities—the 1.7 million square-foot, $205 million Second National Archives Building. It will house more than half the collection of the National Archives Records Administration, including some of the nation's most valuable historical documents. The building will be completed by 1993.

COLE FIELD HOUSE

When college basketball was achieving its most explosive growth—from the late 1950s to the 1970s—there was one college gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new big time, main event status of college hoops, the sport of network TV and emerging legends. It stands today as a building that faces cosmetic renewal over the next several years, but Cole's charisma will not be tampered with; there was not a bad seat in the house on Dec. 2, 1955, when it was dedicated in a game against Virginia, and there is not a better place to watch a game today. Only in a building like Cole, where history has been routinely made, can the fan feel the echo of tradition, and experience, even in an empty Cole, the electricity generated by buzzer beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Cole was dedicated as the Student Activities Center, a $3.3 million project that was erected under the tutelage of Board of Regents Chair, Judge William P. Cole, Jr., and President Wilson Elkins. A year after the dedication, the building was named in honor of Cole, who served the Board of Regents for 25 years.

Although Cole has remained the same basketball hall it was built to be, there have been refinements. Scoreboards were installed recently that will not only tell the fan what the score is, but also how loud they are cheering. Cole's seating also grew from its original base, and 14,500 fans can now root for the Red and White at any game.

As championships were awarded over the years, Cole got some of the very best. The 1966 and 1970 Men's Basketball Final Fours were held here. In 1991, first and second round NCAA games will be hosted. The NCAA Wrestling Championship was held here in 1960, 1972, 1978, 1987, and 1990, and the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship is scheduled for Cole in December.

Cole Field House houses most of the athletic department offices, and yearly hosts thousands who visit just to see where so much hoop history has been made.

MARYLAND TERRAPINS

TERP TRADITIONS

Testudo, a Diamondback Turtle whose name is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines), is the mascot of the University of Maryland. Testudo's flight to become official mascot was (there is no other description) slow. But once on top, Testudo has reigned with a bronze-like grip, peering at generations of younger Terps crossing in front of, or entering the Theodore R. McKeldin Library in the heart of the College Park campus. The 500 pound terrapin's days of roving to conquer rival campuses at the behest of the College Park student body are over, his undisturbed regal bearing insured by his being bolted to a concrete throne.

The need for a mascot was essential in the early 1920s in a world littered with Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears, and all sorts of traditional names derived from a half-century of college athletics. Maryland was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wide-ranging state system and it needed a flag-carrier to do battle with Wahoos, Lions, and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, the University President in 1922, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Although his suggestion was, indeed, "official," there were some who resisted, opting for the older and historically entrenched term. Old-Liners. A label derived from the Revolutionary War when Maryland soldiers earned the accolade for bravery and perseverence in the face of British troops. Old-Liners had a more vocal lobby than the speechless turtle.

By 1935, however, the Yearbook had changed its name from Reveille to Terrapin by a vote of the student body, and save for some splintered resistance, Testudo's family had won. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp, but Testudo by any name is still a turtle.

Samuel P. Gorham of Providence, R.I., cast Testudo in bronze at the request of the Class of 1933. He was modeled after a feisty Diamondback that came from Dr. Byrd's hometown of Crisfield. Dr. Byrd's choice of mascot was not intended to reflect the docility of Maryland teams. As a small boy near his home he surely found out what so many others have discovered about Terrapins —they bite.

COLORS

The colors of the University of Maryland are those of the state flag—gold, red, black and white.

Maryland's flag bears the arms of the Calvert and Crossland families. Calvert was the family name of the Lords Baltimore who founded Maryland, and their colors of gold and black appear in the first and fourth quarters of the flag. Crossland was the family of the mother of George Calvert, first Lord Baltimore. The red and white Crossland colors, with a Greek cross terminating in the foils, appear in the second and third quarters. The flag was first flown in its present form October 25, 1888, at Gettysburg Battlefield for ceremonies dedicating monuments to Maryland regiments of the Army of the Potomac. It was officially adopted in 1904. Maryland law requires that if any ornament is affixed to the top of a flagstaff carrying the Maryland flag, the ornament must be a gold cross bottony.

Like the long trek of Testudo to become mascot, the trip for these colors to arrive as "official" was marked by factionalism. By the post World War II years, there was disgruntlement from the press and others that Maryland's football uniforms were difficult to read, and Old Gold and Black were deemed the colors even though red had been an official color. By the time of Coach Jim Tatum's matchless era of success, which included a National Championship in 1953, the football team was back in red. Today's Maryland football teams incorporate all the colors of the state flag, although the predominate University of Maryland "fight" color is red.

THE COACHING STAFF

GARY WILLIAMS

Head Coach

Approximately a year and a half ago—June 13, 1989 to be exact—Gary Williams was named head basketball coach at the University of Maryland, his alma mater. After a few brief opening remarks, Williams settled in behind the microphone and immediately started talking basketball.

With enthusiasm that onlookers strictly attributed to the occasion, Williams explained his plan for the upcoming year. Maryland, he said, would be a competitive basketball team. The Terps, he proclaimed, would win their share of Atlantic Coast Conference games. This team, he commanded, would woo fans with its hustle, its attitude and its determination. Those gathered shrugged, allowing Williams his say but not for a moment believing that he could turn the team into a contender in just one season.

Well, one year later, let the record show that Williams knew exactly what he was talking about. Last season saw Maryland post a 19-14 record, 6-8 in the rugged ACC. The Terps competed in the post-season, advancing to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament after narrowly missing an invite to the NCAA Tournament. To his lengthy personal list of accomplishments, Williams now can add: winningest first year coach in Maryland history and winningest first year coach among his active ACC peers. That's right, no current ACC coach—not Mike Krzyzweski of Duke, not Bobby Cremins of Georgia Tech, not even Dean Smith of North Carolina—won more games in his first year in the league than did Williams. Anyone that knows Gary Williams, however, knows that the coaching veteran will not rest on past achievements. In 12 years as a head coach he never has. He didn't at Ohio State, where he led three consecutive teams to post-season tournaments. Likewise at Boston College, where three of his four Eagles' teams advanced to postseason action. Even at American University, where he began his college head coaching career in 1978, Williams directed AU to two postseason tournaments in four years. His career record stands at 226-142, a .614 winning percentage.

Williams is the only coach to direct programs in the three elite conferences of college basketball—the Atlantic Coast, the Big East and the Big 10. He has delivered each of the four schools he has coached to post- season berths, traveling the postseason road nine times in 12 seasons. Last year certainly was one of the more memorable campaigns for Williams. In his first year at Maryland, he led the Terps to the second best one-year turnaround in school history, winning 19 games after winning only nine the previous season. His Terps swept the season series with archrivals North Carolina and Virginia.

A Terp by title and diploma, the importance of those series sweeps were not lost on Williams, The Alum. "I remember what it was like in those games as a player," said Williams, who lettered three years for Maryland. "Even though I wasn't out on the court last year, I felt the same excitement."

During his undergraduate years, Williams was a three- year starter for H.A."Bud" Millikan. In his three seasons, Williams played in 74 of Maryland's 76 games, helping the Terps to a 43-33 record during that span. Never a prolific scorer—his career average was 4.5 points a game—Williams set the defensive tone for those Maryland teams. The fervent 94 feet of man-to-man defensive pressure that was his trademark as a player has become his signature as a head coach.

Williams' coaching career included a high school state championship and seven seasons as a college assistant before taking a head coach position—the top spot at American. His years at AU were memorable. In 1981, his squad set a school record for victories with a 24-6 slate, won the East Coast Conference Championship and played in the NIT. The next year, the Eagles went 21-9 and made a return trip to the NIT. In four years at AU, Williams' teams were 72-42.

In 1983, he moved on to Boston College, leading those Eagles to a 25-7 record, the Big East Conference regular season title and the NCAA "Sweet 16" that first season. Three of Williams' BC squads would go on to play in the post-season, twice earning trips to the final 16.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching position at Ohio State, and immediately was a success. His first Buckeyes squad upended then No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa in the regular season. That would be the first of many giant-killings by the Williams-led-Buckeyes. Other big wins would follow, including victories over second-ranked Purdue, perennial power Kansas, and highly regarded Big 10 foes Michigan and Illinois.

Now, with an immensely successful Maryland season behind him, Williams is as enthusiastic as ever. The Terps will continue to be competitive, they will hustle, they will continue to surprise, he says. Only this time, nobody is doubting.

GARY'S FIRST YEAR

For Gary Williams, there is no such thing as a rebuilding year, no room for transition periods.

"We wanted to be as good as we could be right away," said Williams of his 1989-90 squad, his first at Maryland. "I didn't want to hear about Maryland not being talented enough or needing a transition year to get used to the new staff. I wasn't about to let our players think we were going to move slowly toward our goals."

In large part due to that strong will of their head coach, last season's Terps proved they could be very good.

The numbers tell part of the amazing story. A team that was near-unanimously picked to finish last in the Atlantic Coast Conference, ended the season with a 6-8 ACC record and a tie for fifth place in the league. Overall, the team won 19 games and advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. The Terps swept the season series with North Carolina and Virginia and played competitively with every other ACC school.

Off the court, the players carried themselves with a pride befitting a team that offered no excuses, but rather went out every game and played hard. Fans responded to the players' attitude, filling Cole Field House regularly and shaking the rafters with thundering approval for Gary Williams' Terps.

Sights from Gary's first year: Plenty of congratulations, 12 home wins, a trip to the 53rd annual NIT, and plenty of sideline officiating made Gary Wiliams the winningest first-year Terp coach ever.

Loyalty Key to Decision

There were smiles all around on August 28, 1990, when Walt Williams ended months of speculation and announced he was staying at the University of Maryland. That single event was more important a victory for Gary Williams' first year than any of the 19 that came on the court. For Walt, the decision was not an easy one, but it came down to his belief in the principle of loyalty. "I guess some of things that made me decide were loyalty to Coach Williams and to the staff," he said, "but even more important than that is loyalty to myself. I felt that whatever decision I made, I was the one who would have to live with it, so I wanted to make sure that I would be happy."

Indeed, the year just past was a special one for Maryland basketball and it was made special by the brand of hoops Gary Williams brought to the University and the intensity with which his team played that style. Tony Massenburg, a 1989-90 team co-captain, summed it up this way: "Coach Williams," he said, "gave us the feeling we could win."

BILLY HAHN

Assistant Coach

TERP ASSISTANTS

Billy Hahn remembers the glory years of Maryland basketball. He was there on the Sunday afternoons when the great Maryland teams of the mid-1970s met the great North Carolina State teams. He knows first hand that sports fans the following Mondays were talking about the Terps basketball games and not about the Super Bowls that followed it.

Now Hahn is orchestrating similar excitement in Maryland hoops as part of the Terps' coaching staff.

When Hahn played at Maryland, from 1971-75, the Terps were one of the nation's most dominant teams. He was part of a National Invitation Tournament championship in 1972, a member of the team that lost arguably the greatest ACC game of all time—103-100 in triple overtime to N.C. State in 1973—and he shared in the triumph of captaining his senior team to the third round of the NCAA Tournament in 1975.

When his career continued as a coach, big wins, a few more heartbreaking losses and continued success in the NIT and NCAA tournaments continued as well.

Now he's on the sidelines in College Park to continue the resurgence of one of the country's great hoops programs. It's a program he knows well and loves deeply.

Prior to joining Gary Williams' Maryland staff, Hahn was for three years the head coach at Ohio University, compiling a 42-45 overall record and always fielding competitive teams in the under-appreciated Mid-American Conference. In 1989, he coached the MAC Player of the Year, Paul Graham. Throughout his three years, 100 percent of his senior players earned their degrees.

Prior to his being named head coach, Hahn was for six years the Ohio University assistant, aiding Danny Nee's staffs as its primary recruiter and a savvy court coach. For four years those OU teams posted 20 win seasons, while twice earning trips to the NCAA Tournament and once to the NIT.

Prior to his stint at Ohio, Hahn was for three years an assistant at Rhode Island (1977- 80), where he recruited and coached future New York Knicks star Sly Williams, and before that Hahn was an assistant at Davidson College (1976-77) and Morris Harvey College in West Virginia (1975-76).

Hahn, who has a reputation as a tireless recruiter, was an equally relentless player. Recruited out of Mishawaka, Ind.—the first Maryland player from the tradition-rich Hoosier state—Hahn starred for the Terps' 1971 freshman team. But in 1972, the Terps recruited a point guard of some repute by the name of John Lucas. Two years later another one by the name of Brad Davis came along. Billy Hahn became a reserve, but handled his fate with typical enthusiasm, becoming the team's vocal leader if not its statistical one.

Now, Hahn helps lead the Terps from the bench, lending to this Maryland team as a coach, the same competitiveness, desire and love for the program that he added to those mid-1970s teams as a player.

Specifics: 37 (6-22-53)

Education: B.S. Distributive Education, with a minor in business administration, University of Maryland, 1975

Playing Experience: Three-time letterman for the University of Maryland. Team captain in 1974-75. He earned the Alvin Aubinoe Career Contribution Award as a senior and was a member of the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1974-75.

Coaching: Morris Harvey College, Assistant Coach, 1975-76; Davidson College, Assistant Coach, 1976-77; University of Rhode Island, Assistant Coach, 1977-80 (1979 NIT appearance); Ohio University, Assistant Coach, 1980-86 (1983 & 1985 NCAA Tournament appearances, 1986 NIT appearance); Ohio University, Head Basketball Coach, 1986-89 (three-season record of 42-45); University of Maryland, Assistant Coach, 1989–Present.

Personal: Hometown is Mishawaka, Indiana. He is married to the former Kathi Sheehy and the couple has two children: Matthew, 12, and Ashley, 7.

ART PERRY

Assistant Coach

It didn't take Art Perry long to make up his mind to accept Gary Williams' offer to come to the University of Maryland as an assistant coach. Williams, after all, was offering Perry a chance to coach in the Atlantic Coast Conference and an opportunity to assist with a program that had turned the corner in Williams' first year and by all accounts was on its way toward being a national contender. But most of all, "Gary was offering me a chance to come home," says Perry, who grew up in Washington D. C. and whose family still lives there.

Perry, 45, went to high school in the area (Eastern High), he played his college ball nearby (at American) and now brings to his "neighborhood" an impressive resume of 18 years in coaching.

For the past six years, he has been a member of Tom Young's Old Dominion University staff. However, Perry's association with Young goes back well beyond ODU. Perry has coached almost continually with the Maryland graduate (Class of '58) since 1973, when he joined Young's Rutgers staff as a student coach. He was with Young at Rutgers when the Scarlet Knights earned a berth in the 1976 NCAA Final Four. After a brief stint at Connecticut, Perry rejoined Young at Rutgers as a fulltime assistant in 1978 and had stayed with Young at Rutgers and ODU until accepting the Maryland assistants post this summer.

Like his counterpart on the Maryland coaching staff, Billy Hahn, Perry is a tireless recruiter, and he has a keen eye for talent. More than 20 student-athletes that Perry has recruited have been drafted into the pros, and more than 10 have played extensively. Among his most recent recruiting jewels were Chris Gatling and Anthony Carver — both prep All-Americans — to Old Dominion. To Rutgers, Perry recruited future NBA players Roy Hinson and John Battle.

But Perry's experiences with outstanding basketball talent is not confined to his coaching roles. As a college player at American, Perry was a teammate of Kermit Washington, who went on to star in the NBA. Perry, too, had visions of basketball after college, but a knee injury prior to his junior season dashed those hopes and led him toward his coaching track. When Young offered him a chance to finish his degree as a student coach, the career was born.

Perry was a three-sport star at Eastern High School, which during the early 1960s was The District's athletics powerhouse. As a senior, Perry quarterbacked both the football and basketball (as a point guard) teams to the city championship. He also was a sprinter on the track team. Perry graduated from Eastern High in 1964 and spent four years in the Air Force as a crew chief for jet fighters and as a member of the All-Air Force basketball team before returning home to D.C. and enrolling at American. Now, 20 years later, Perry returns home again.

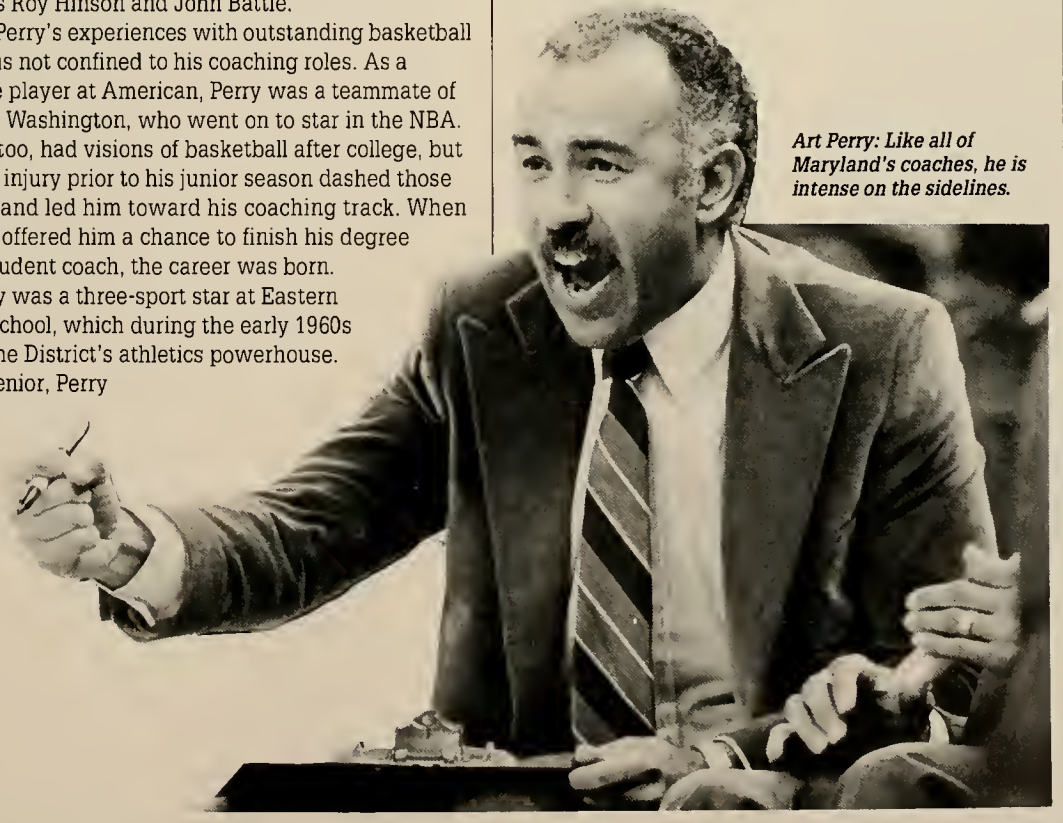
Specifics: 45 (11-8-46)

Education: B. S. Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Rutgers University, 1975; currently enrolled in the M. A. Sports Management program at Old Dominion.

Playing Experience: Three-time letterwinner at American University, 1970-73; four times named to the All-Air Force Team, 1965-69

Coaching: Rutgers University, Assistant Coach, 1973-76 (1976 NCAA Final Four); University of Connecticut, Assistant Coach, 1976-78; Rutgers University, Assistant Coach, 1978-85 (NCAA Tournament twice, NIT, once); Old Dominion University, Assistant Coach, 1985-90 (1986 NCAA Tournament, 1988 NIT).

Personal: Hometown is Washington D. C. His mother, sister and brother all still live in The District. Perry is single.



Art Perry: Like all of Maryland's coaches, he is intense on the sidelines.

TERP ASSISTANTS

ADAM PREYER

Part-Time Coach

Entering his second season as the Terps' part-time coach is Adam Preyer. A 1988 graduate of Roanoke College, Preyer joined the ACC coaching ranks after one year of coaching at Millersville University.

Given the fact that Preyer handles a majority of Maryland's scouting, assists with all court coaching, and plans many of the basketball program's clinics and special events, he is "part-time" in title only.

Preyer coached under former Maryland coach John Kochan at Millersville University, which finished the 1988-89 season with a 26-7 record and secured the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference and Eastern Regional championships. In addition to his Millersville experience, Preyer has coached at numerous national basketball camps, including the nationally-recognized 5-Star Camp series.

Preyer, a native of Greensboro, N.C., graduated from Roanoke College with a degree in English. He was a four-year basketball letterman, leading the Maroons to three conference titles. As a senior he was the team's co-captain.

MICHAEL GIELEN

Volunteer Coach

Michael Gielen is getting his coaching career started in the same area where his playing career received all sorts of notoriety. Early indications suggest that Gielen will be as successful on the sidelines, as he was on the hardwood.

Like Billy Hahn and Adam Preyer, Gielen begins his second year this season coaching with Gary Williams. Gielen's responsibilities on the staff include court coaching—primarily working with the guards on ballhandling and shooting techniques—scouting, and organization and coordination of the Gary Williams Basketball Camp.

As a prep, Gielen attended famed DeMatha High School in nearby Hyattsville, Md., which he led to the 1984 national high school championship. In 1985, his senior season, he was nominated as a McDonald's All-America and earned DeMatha's Horace Mann Scholar Athlete Award. A 4.0 high school student and all-star basketball player, Gielen chose Harvard University at which to continue his athletic and academic pursuits.

Gielen excelled in the Ivy League. He led the league in steals and assists in 1988-89, and was voted the Crimson's best defensive player and Most Valuable Player. He captained the Harvard squad as a junior and senior, becoming the first two-time captain in the school's history. He finished his Harvard career as the school's seventh all-time leading scorer.

PETER SAUER

Administrative Assistant

Handling the day-to-day administrative duties of Maryland's basketball operation is Peter Sauer, who is in his second year with the staff.

Sauer was the assistant athletic director for development and communications at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County in 1988, before joining Gary Williams' first staff. In that capacity, he coordinated all marketing efforts over the course of a very successful UMBC season.

Sauer orchestrated the revamping of UMBC's corporate sponsorships, one end result of which was the broadcasting of four Retriever games on television—a University first. His efforts in other areas helped secure for UMBC its most productive year ever at the gate. The school set single game and season attendance records during the 1988-89 season.

Prior to his work at UMBC, he was an assistant to the general manager at the Patriot Center, George Mason University's home basketball arena. There he assisted in all areas of event and facility management.

Among Sauer's duties for the Terps are coordination of the facilities and schedules and game management. He also coordinates team travel and assists with the organization of the Gary Williams Basketball Camp.

Like his boss, Gary Williams, Sauer is a graduate of Maryland, earning a bachelor of arts degree in government and politics in 1981. He went on to earn his law degree in 1987 from the University of Nebraska College of Law.

BILL SAYLOR

Assistant Trainer

Providing the day-to-day injury-prevention care to the Maryland basketball team is trainer Bill Saylor, who is in his fourth year as chief trainer for the team.

One of four full-time assistants to Head Trainer J.J. Bush, Saylor works with most of Maryland's athletic teams, and supervises the training of the men's basketball team, specifically.

Saylor coordinates and supervises the team's off-season conditioning regimen. He travels with the team and supervises all rehabilitative efforts in the advent of an injury.

As a former varsity athlete in football and wrestling, Saylor has first hand knowledge of the importance of preventative medical care in the success of an athletes' career. Saylor was a letter-earning wrestler for three years and a football safety for one year at Delaware. He graduated from Delaware in 1980 with a Bachelor of Science in physical education. He earned his master's degree in phyiscal education from Virginia in 1983.

Prior to coming to Maryland, Saylor served as a trainer in the Sports Medicine Department of the U.S. Naval Academy for three years. He also worked on a part time basis as a trainer with the Washington Redskins for three years.

Saylor, 38, is married to the former Patricia Bird.

FRANK COSTELLO

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Currently in his fourth decade of association with the University of Maryland, Frank Costello this year is in his 10th season as head strength and conditioning coach.

In that capacity, Costello and his staff supervise all weight training and off-season conditioning regimens. Costello is one of the area's leading authorities on strength training and conditioning. He also supervises all the conditioning for the National Hockey League's Washington Capitals.

Costello served as Head Track and Field Coach for Maryland from 1974-81 before moving into his current position. As track coach, Costello's teams won an ACC Championship and Indoor and Outdoor IC4A Championships. He has worked with a number of world class athletes, including hurdler and world record holder, Renaldo Nehemiah. In 1976, his long jumpers were one, two, and three in the IC4A's. Of course he had some special knowledge of high jumping.

As New Jersey state high jump champion, Costello came to Maryland and made immediate contributions to the program. He was undefeated in the ACC, IC4A, and NCAA competition in 1965, winning both indoor and outdoor NCAA titles. His list of accomplishments includes titles in the Penn Relays, Milrose Games, Eastern European Championships, Southern Hemisphere Games and the French National Championships. In 1966, he was the third-ranked high jumper in the world.

In addition to coaching, Costello has been the author of numerous articles on track and field, including six articles published for Scholastic Magazine, four in the Athletic Journal, and two more in Track Technique Magazine.

Costello and his wife, Sherry, reside in Bowie, Md.

DR. STANFORD LAVINE

Team Physician

Dr. Stan Lavine's role at Maryland has been to make the Terrapins go, whether as an undergraduate standout in football, or as the team physician for almost three decades.

A native of Pittsburgh where he attended Schenley High School, Dr. Lavine matriculated at Maryland to prepare for his medical career, and played initially for the immortal Clark Shaughnesy, one of football's great innovators. By the time of his 1950 graduation, he had led Maryland under Head Coach Jim Tatum to a 9-1 record and a 20-7 win over Missouri in the Gator Bowl as the team's quarterback. After graduating from the University's Medical School, he interned in hospitals in Philadelphia and Cleveland, served two years in the Air Force, and then began his orthopedic medical practice and work with Maryland's athletic teams.

Dr. Lavine attends all football games, home basketball games and some road games, and he is on call at all times for the athletes on the University's 23 sports teams. His professional reputation is national in scope, and many prominent athletes have sought his treatment. He was team physician for the Washington Redskins (1975-85), and was there for two Super Bowls. He was the team physician for the Washington Bullets when they won the NBA Championship. He was the team physician for the Washington Diplomats soccer team. He presentley works at Sibley Hospital in Washington, D.C.

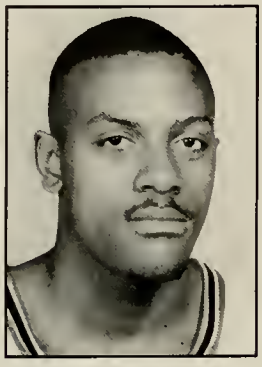
MEET THE TERRAPINS

VINCE BROADNAX



#40
Junior, Forward
6-3, 191
Forestville, Maryland

Quite possibly the best defensive player on the squad . . . his work habits and attitude are among the best on the team . . . while not anywhere close to the most physically talented member of the team, he gets as much out of his ability as anyone playing the game . . . his tenaciousness on defense and rebounding prowess makes him a coaches' favorite . . . he is a tremendous position rebounder, who consistently pulls down his share of boards despite being at a severe height disadvantage against most ACC forwards . . . plays with the same intensity whether the situation is practice or an ACC game . . . As a Sophomore — He was the team's all-important sixth man during the 1989-90 campaign . . . started the season as a walk-on, but earned a scholarship . . . he was granted the scholarship on Jan. 16, 1990, the night before Maryland played at Virginia . . . against the Cavaliers in that game, he scored the bucket to tie the game with under three minutes to play and then in the final seconds tied up a loose ball that sealed the Terps' win . . . he played in all 33 games, starting two, and averaged 3.5 points and 2.1 rebounds a game . . . his .551 field goal percentage was tops among the Terps' regulars and he had 16 games in which he shot 50 percent or better from the floor . . . he scored in double figures three times, including an 11-point outing against Duke in the ACC Tournament . . . he became a favorite of Gary Williams' early in the fall practices and had almost as many minutes of playing time in the Terps season opener against Delaware State (17) as he had the entire previous season (19) . . . As a Freshman — One of three walk-ons to the 1988-89 squad . . . he saw the most action of the three, playing in 11 games and averaging just under two minutes an outing . . . he scored his season high of eight points and four rebounds against Maryland-Eastern Shore . . . he also played in both of Maryland's ACC Tournament games . . . High School — Played at Suitland High School . . . two-year varsity player for the Rams . . . as a senior, he averaged 20 points and seven rebounds an outing, leading SHS to the second round of the playoffs . . . played both forward positions as a prep . . . coached at Suitland by Owen Johnson . . . Personal — Born July 6, 1969 . . . full name is Vincent Delmas Broadnax . . . his cousin, Horace, played for Georgetown . . . in the fall conditioning tests, he bench pressed 250 pounds and posted a 31-inch vertical jump . . . he is majoring in speech communications.

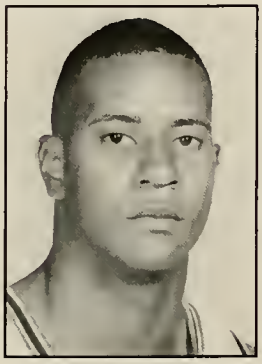
Rewarding Hustle

The night before Maryland's game last year at Virginia, head coach Gary Williams asked Vince Broadnax to his hotel room. With little fanfare, Williams extended a scholarship offer to his theretofore walk-on sixth man. Broadnax graciously accepted, and then the next night went out say thank you to his coach. Against UVA, Broadnax scored the bucket to tie the game with under three minutes to play and then in the game's final seconds he tied up a loose ball that sealed the Terps' road win.

EVERS BURNS



#33
Sophomore, Forward/Center
6-8, 247
Baltimore, Maryland

With Maryland having to develop an entirely new frontcourt this year, Burns could be the key component of the revamped front . . . he has the size and skills that allow him to play either power forward or center, giving the coaching staff versatility . . . he runs the floor well and has good hands for his size . . . a lefty, he also has an accurate shooting touch from 15 feet-in . . . he will need to score his share of points this year, but his biggest contribution to the Terps will come if his low-post defense improves . . . he has added about 15 pounds over last year's playing weight, a result of an intense weight lifting regimen . . . As a Freshman — Saw the most playing time of any freshman during the 1989-90 campaign . . . he played in 28 games and averaged 4.3 points and 2.7 rebounds a game . . . both of those averages were sixth best on the team . . . he shot .543 from the field and was perfect from three-point distance (1-1) . . . he worked hard at both ends of the floor, grabbing 31 offensive rebounds and 44 defensive . . . High School — Played at Woodlawn High School . . . he was a two-sport prep star, excelling as a basketball forward/center and a football tight end . . . as a senior in 1988-89, he led WHS to a 20-3 record and a berth in the state tournament semifinals . . . during his sophomore and junior seasons, Woodlawn advanced to the regional semifinals . . . as a senior, he averaged 16 points, 8.5 rebounds and three blocks per game, earning all-Baltimore County and all-Metropolitan by the Baltimore Sun and honorable mention All-America honors . . . he shot 52 percent from the field and 86 percent from the line . . . while his basketball numbers were impressive, his football totals were even more outstanding . . . he played both ways for the Woodlawn football team, as a tight end and defensive end . . . on offense, he had 29 receptions for 15 touchdowns and averaged just over 20 yards per catch as a senior . . . those numbers earned him football prep All-America honors and had him coveted by a number of powerhouse college football programs . . . not surprisingly, he was Woodlawn's Outstanding Male Athlete . . . Personal — Born August 24, 1971 . . . his full name is Evers Allen Burns . . . currently he is following a pre-business curriculum . . . during the fall testing period, he bench pressed 255 pounds and had a vertical jump of 30 inches, both considerable improvements from his freshman season tests . . . Evers father, Emmett, is the National Life Membership Director of the NAACP in Baltimore . . . his older brother, Emmett, Jr., played fullback at Temple and his brother, Engel, attends Howard University.

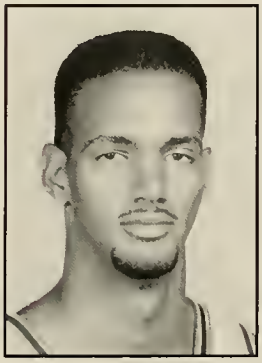
Points in a Hurry

This season, Evers Burns expects to see a majority of his playing time at center, alternating with defensive-wiz Cedric Lewis. If his freshman year is any indication, Burns will be the perfect offensive compliment to Lewis. A year ago, he scored a point every two minutes he was on the court. A couple of his more impressive points-per-minute games were: 12 points in 12 minutes against Cal-State Sacramento, 12 points in 13 minutes against Jacksonville, and 17 points in 18 minutes against Alcorn State.

KEVIN CHAMBERLAIN



#24
Sophomore, Forward
6-8, 206
College Park, Georgia

An outstanding natural athlete, possibly the best on the team, Chamberlain still is trying to find his niche as a basketball player . . . he'll begin the year as a reserve power forward . . . he is quick and agile, which gives him the potential to be an outstanding defensive player . . . he also has the best vertical jump on the team at 34.5 inches . . . despite a slender frame, he is exceptionally strong and can battle in the paint . . . As a Freshman — Spent the season as a member of the practice scout team . . . he played in six games, scoring two points . . . those points and his lone rebound of the year came in a three-minute stint against Maryland-Baltimore County . . . High School — Played at Frederick Douglas High School . . . he led Douglas to a 50-11 mark in his two seasons as a starter, including a 28-2 campaign as a senior in 1988-89 . . . that team, with Chamberlain as its leading scorer at 14 points and 10 rebounds a game, was ranked as high as No. 5 in the USA Today weekly high school rankings . . . the team advanced to the state tournament regional finals . . . as a senior, he shot 59 percent from the floor and 79 percent from the line . . . besides his high school team, he played on an Atlanta area AAU team which included a number of Division I players, including Wayne Buckingham of Clemson, Jim Morgan of Stanford and Gerald Houston of Texas, who was also a high school teammate of Chamberlain's . . . he was coached in high school by Don Dollar . . . Personal — Born August 11, 1971 . . . his full name is Kevin Denis Chamberlain . . . during the fall testing period he bench pressed 265 pounds and ran a 4.86 40-yard dash, the second best sprint on the team . . . he has yet to declare a major.

Most Athletic Terp

Although he hasn't had a great amount of playing time to show it, Kevin Chamberlain is among the Terps most athleticly-gifted players. This fall, during the final conditioning tests, Chamberlain registered team highs in three of the six tests conducted. Among Chamberlain's more impressive physical accomplishments: a team-best 34½-inch vertical jump and a 10-foot, one-inch standing long jump.

After three years as a reserve, Lewis this year appears to be the Man in the Middle for the Terps . . . one of only three seniors and a team tri-captain, he is the likely starter at center for Maryland . . . he is one of the most active defensive players on the Maryland squad . . . he has excellent timing and is as quick off his feet as any player on the team, a combination which makes him one of the best shot blockers in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the nation . . . his looming defensive presence in the low post allows his teammates to play tighter, riskier defense on the perimeter . . . he runs the floor extremely well for his size . . . his offensive game has made tremendous strides . . . he has become a more consistent free throw shooter, which was a priority of the coaching staff last year because of Lewis' propensity to get fouled . . . also his shot selection from around the basket has improved, as has his field goal percentage . . . he played this summer as part of the ACC All-Stars on a 10-day tour of Germany . . . he averaged 6.2 points a game on that tour as the league stars won all six games of the tour . . . at 6-9, is the tallest Terp . . . As a Junior — He is coming off far and away his most productive season as a Terp in 1989-90 . . . he played in all 33 games, starting the first five . . . for the first time in his career, he totaled more than 100 points (101) and 100 rebounds (100 even) . . . he averaged 3.1 points and 3.0 rebounds a game, averaging 13.2 minutes an outing . . . his 1.5 blocks per game was third in the ACC . . . his 49 total blocks was a season high and leaves him just four short of 100 for his career . . . he currently is No. 3 on the Terps all-time blocked shot list . . . during the season, he either set or tied career highs for points (13), rebounds (11) and blocks (6) . . . not known as a great shooter, he 10 times last year shot 50 percent or better from the field . . . As a Sophomore — He played in 27 games, and averaged 13.8 minutes an outing . . . he had his season-best game against Morgan State, when he scored 11 points, grabbed five rebounds and blocked three shots in 20 minutes . . . he also had 10 points, five boards and two blocks in 18 minutes at North Carolina . . . he averaged one block for every 10 minutes of playing time over the course of the season . . . his 36 blocks for the year was the sixth best total in the ACC . . . As a Freshman — He opened the season in a big way, garnering 33 minutes in his college career opener against Loyola and scored 10 points, grabbed four rebounds and blocked three shots . . . averaged 2.0 points, 2.0 rebounds and just under two blocks a game in the team's first seven contests, starting two of those seven . . . he did not play another game that season, however, as a case of mononucleosis forced him out of action . . . High School — Played at John Carroll High School . . . he averaged 17 points and nine rebounds as a senior . . . had game highs that season of 25 points, 15 boards and 15 blocked shots . . . was the national high school leader in blocks . . . Personal — Born September 24, 1969 in Washington D. C . . . he had a 31.5-inch vertical jump, which was third-best on the team . . . his brother, Derrick, played for Maryland from 1984-88 and is among the school's career leaders in scoring and rebounding and currently plays professionally in France . . . majoring in family studies.

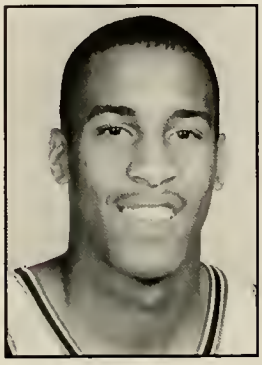
Another Lewis Swatter

For the last six seasons, the University of Maryland's leading shot blocker has been a son of Bobbie and Gertie Lewis. For the last two years, Cedric Lewis has led the Terps in blocks. For the four years previous to that, Cedric's older brother, Derrick, led the Terps' swatting corps. While averaging less than 14 minutes a game in his career, Cedric, nevertheless, is No. 3 on the school's all-time blocked shots list and starts the season No. 17 on the ACC's career list.

KEVIN McLINTON



#22
Sophomore, Guard
6-3, 208
Silver Spring, Maryland

A wonderful natural athlete who enters this season as the likely back-up at point guard . . . a two-sport high school star — basketball and football — he might be the best overall athlete on the team . . . he has excellent quickness and jumping ability that allows him to play much taller than his 6-3 frame . . . his ballhandling is ever-improving, as is his outside shot . . . he worked quite a bit in the offseason with teammate Matt Roe on the mechanics of his jumper . . . a consistently effective outside shot would allow the Maryland coaches the flexibility to play him at the off guard as well . . . he still is relatively new to organized basketball, having played just two years of high school ball and a small portion of last season . . . As a Freshman — Played in six games, starting three in 1989-90 before a stress fracture in his left leg forced him from the line-up . . . he missed the rest of the season, using the spring semester to rehabilitate the leg and concentrate on his academics . . . in his six games of active duty, however, he showed tremendous promise . . . he opened the season with an eight-point, seven-assist performance against Delaware State . . . two nights later, against Augusta, he scored a season-high 10 points, going eight of nine from the line . . . for the year, he averaged 3.7 points and 2.8 assists a game . . . High School — Played at Springbrook High School . . . he led SHS to a 43-6 two-year record and one state championship (1987-88 season) . . . in his first year of varsity he started at power forward, averaged 12 points a game and led the team to the state title . . . then as a senior, he was moved to point guard, where he directed the offense while scoring 19.5 points a game and adding seven rebounds and five assists an outing . . . he also led the team in steals, field goal percentage (.550) and free throw percentage (.750) . . . he was named to the Montgomery Journal's all-Metropolitan team and was a second team selection on the Washington Post's all-Met team . . . Mc Linton has given all-new meaning to the term beginners luck: In his first year of varsity basketball (1987-88), he led Springbrook to the state title, then in the fall of 1988, his first season as part of an organized football team, he led Springbrook to the state football title . . . in that football championship game, played at Maryland's Byrd Stadium, he returned an interception 99 yards for the clinching touchdown . . . he played his high school basketball for Coach John Barrett, a Maryland graduate . . . Personal — Born August 28, 1971 . . . his full name is Kevin Dennard Mc Linton . . . he is majoring in pre-business . . . during fall testing drills, Mc Linton bench pressed 240 pounds and posted a 29.5-inch vertical jump . . . his brother, Darren, 16, already is playing for the varsity at Springbrook . . . his father is the former Washington Redskins all-star middle linebacker Harold Mc Linton, who tragically died in an accident in 1978 . . . one of Kevin's fondest memories of his dad's playing career was the now-famous 1973 Monday Night Football game between the Redskins and Cowboys . . . in that game, Harold had a game-high 12 tackles and thoroughly dominated the Cowboys offense in the first half . . . the 'Skins won the game, 14-7, on one of the greatest goal line stands in NFL history.

Beginner's Luck

When in high School, Kevin McLinton gave all new meaning to the term "beginner's luck." In his first season of varsity basketball, 1987-88, McLinton led Springbrook High School to the Maryland state championship. The next season, McLinton's senior year and his first playing competitive football, he led the Blue Devils to the state gridiron title. Taking his particular knack to college, McLinton scored eight points and dished for a season-high seven assists in his first collegiate hoops game last year against Delaware State.

MATT ROE

The Original Gym Rat

Matt Roe says his favorite sports hero is Chris Mullin, the former St. John's All-American. Last year, Roe took a page from Mullin's well-chronicled practice regime. He asked for, and got a key to the gym. Then, at least four times a week, a solitary Roe could be found at midnight on the Cole Field House floor working on his game.

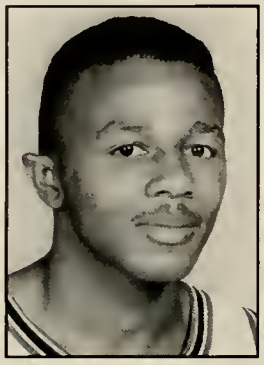
He has the Heels' Number

Mark down on you schedule the dates Jan. 9, 1991 and Feb. 16, 1991. You can be sure Walt Williams has. On those days, Maryland is scheduled to play North Carolina, an opponent who Williams has enjoyed his biggest games as a collegian against. In five career games against the Tar Heels, Williams has averaged 14.8 points, 5.2 assists, 4.4 rebounds and 3.2 steals a game. Williams owns his career highs in points (33), assists (9) and steals (7) against North Carolina.

MATTHEW DOWNING



#12
Junior, Guard
5–10, 162
Atchison, Kansas

A very quick, very versatile guard who will have two years of eligibility after a two-year stint at Dodge City Community College in Dodge City, Kan . . . he is expected to vie with Kevin McLinton for backup point guard duties at Maryland, but possesses an excellent outside shot and could play some off guard as well . . . he has an excellent first step, which makes him a threat to penetrate . . . he is a fundamentally-sound player, having grown up with the game, his father being a high school coach . . . At Dodge City CC—He was a two year starter at DCCC, playing both the point and the off guard . . . he averaged 18 points a game last year and 15 a game as freshman to lead the team both seasons . . . last year, he also averaged four rebounds, four assists and two steals a game, and shot 45 percent from the field, 41 percent from three-point range and 81 percent from the free throw line . . . he was selected to the Jayhawk East-West All-Star Game, which includes only the top 20 JC players in the state . . . He also was a Jayhawk West All-Conference selection . . . he always seemed to have his best games against Dodge City's biggest rival, Garden City CC, scoring more than 30 points a game in each of the three contests between the two teams last year . . . DCCC was 17–18 overall last season . . . he says he went to junior college out of high school to "prove he could play the point" . . . he played at DCCC for Coach Brad Underwood . . . High School—Played at Atchison High School . . . played for his father, Chic, who this year is beginning his 18th season as head coach at Atchison . . . he led the team to the state championship as a sophomore and senior and to the championship game as a junior . . . in fact, in Downing's three years of varsity ball, Atchison had a combined record of 68–6, including 24–1 his senior year . . . he was the team's leading scorer as a junior and senior, averaging 20 and 19 points per game, respectively . . . Personal—Born January 15, 1970 . . . he is the oldest of five children . . . he goes by his nickname, "Cougar" . . . his brother, Clifford, is a forward at Neosho Junior College in Kansas . . . he is majoring in consumer economics, but is interested in getting involved in physical therapy after graduation.

All in the Family

When Matt Downing was born, his father nicknamed him "Cougar" as a joke, "because my dad didn't really like cats," Matt says. The name stuck, and so did Chic Downing's panache for nicknaming his children after members of the feline family. The oldest of five, Matt Downing has a brother nicknamed "Leopard," and sisters "Jaguar", "Puma" and "Bobcat."

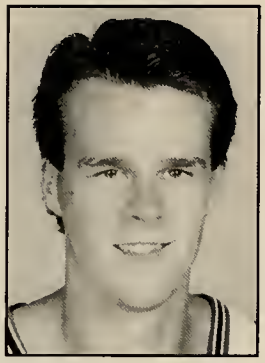
6–3, 203
Martinsburg, West Virginia

Continuing a Gary Williams tradition at Maryland, Green is the second former Maryland football player to earn a spot on the Terps hoops roster in as many years . . . he follows last year's back-up point guard, Mike Anderson, who made the transformation from football fullback to basketball quarterback . . . Green is making the attempt to go from wide receiver to small forward, and his quickness, intensity and athletic ability have him well on his way to a smooth transition . . . he can be a huge help on Maryland's press and should help on the boards at both ends of the floor . . . he decided to try out after conversations with Anderson and with members of the basketball team with whom he played pick-up games this summer . . . he has not played organized basketball since his senior year in high school . . . on the football team, he played one year as a reserve defensive back and his final two years as a wide receiver . . . as a junior, he caught 14 passes (seventh on the team) for 215 yards and two touchdowns . . . as a senior and the starting split end, he had 19 catches (fourth overall) for 342 yards and one TD . . . he was named the team's Unsung Hero after the 1989 season . . . High School—Played football and basketball at Martinsburg High School . . . he led the team to the state semifinals as a senior as the team's leading scorer at 17 points a game . . . not surprisingly, he was the Senior Athlete of the Year after being named first team all-state in football and second team in basketball . . . he attended the same high school that produced one of Maryland's most heralded basketball players—All-American and U.S. Olympian Vicky Bullett . . . Personal—Born June 22, 1968 . . . he calls the chance to play two sports on the Division I level a dream come true . . . he is majoring in speech communications and should have his degree by next summer . . . his is an academic career to model . . . after coming to Maryland as a Proposition 48 athlete, he finished his football career by being named to the ACC's All-Academic Team in 1989.

A Two-sport Star?

Dean Green is Gary Williams' second recruit in as many years from the Maryland football team. Over the years, Maryland has had some outstanding two-sport stars. A few of the more prominent moonlighters were: John Lucas (All-ACC in basketball and tennis), Tom Brown (football and baseball), and Bosey Berger (basketball and baseball).

ERIC KJOME



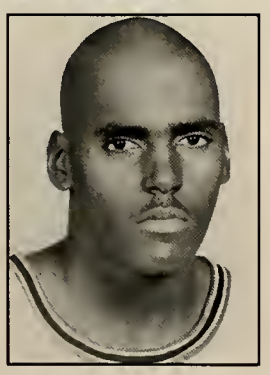
#45
Senior, Forward
6–7, 223
Red Wing, Minnesota

An unselfish player who can help the team in a variety of ways . . . at present, he has one year of eligibility remaining, pending appeal, after starting his college career at the U.S. Air Force Academy . . . he is a strong outside shooter and has the height and bulk to be an effective rebounder . . . he is an aggressive player, who does the little things well —going to the floor for loose balls, hitting the open man, working the offensive boards, etc . . . he is likely to see the majority of his playing time at power forward . . . At the Air Force Academy—Played in all 27 games as a freshman in 1985–86 and was a starter for most of his sophomore season . . . he started 19 of 27 games as a sophomore (1986–87) and averaged 9.0 points and 4.7 rebounds a game . . . that scoring average was fourth-best on the team and his rebounding total was second best . . . as a freshman, he averaged 7.6 points and 3.4 rebounds a game . . . he had the second best field goal percentage on the team as a sophomore, hitting .536 (83–115) . . . surprisingly, he also had the second best three-point percentage at .366 . . . his career highs were 23 points against BYU, 12 rebounds against Utah and five assists vs. Texas El-Paso, all in his sophomore season . . . he went into active duty in the Air Force in July 1988 for two years . . . High School—Played at Red Wing High School . . . two-time all-state basketball player and all-state as a first baseman and pitcher in baseball as a senior . . . averaged 25 points a game as a senior . . . he was the team's leading scorer as a junior and senior . . . Personal—Born April 30, 1967 . . . his last name is pronounced Cho-MEE . . . he has traveled extensively, including trips to Australia, New Zealand and Japan . . . he is the youngest of two children . . . his sister, Kimberly Clark, was a collegiate swimmer at Wisconsin . . . he is majoring in business.

A World Traveler

There are somethings Eric Kjome says he won't miss about the Air Force, the marching in formation, the inspections, the general regimentation. But Kjome admits, he will miss the travel. During is two-years as a player at the Air Force Academy, Kjome traveled to tournaments in Hawaii, Japan and Australia. He says that he has visited all but three states west of the Mississippi (Montana, Idaho and Alaska), but has missed a majority of the East. "Now that I'm at Maryland, I plan on hitting the rest," he says.

MARK McGLONE



#52
Freshman, Forward
6–6, 252
Bladensburg, Maryland

Gary Williams' first local signee . . . he can play either the small forward or power forward, although he played mostly inside in high school . . . he possesses excellent quickness for his size, owns a deft outside shot and is an intense competitor—all qualities which endear him to the Terps basketball staff . . . he has never lived more than 15 minutes from the Maryland campus, and says playing for the Terps has always been a dream . . . this summer, he played on a Kenner League team with Maryland mates Matt Roe, Garfield Smith and Mike Thibeault . . . High School—Played at Bladensburg High School as a senior . . . he was the team's leading scorer and rebounder, averaging 17 points, 10 rebounds a game . . . he also added a team-high three blocks a game and five assists an outing . . . he was named first team All-Prince George's County by the PG Journal and was a second team All-Metropolitan pick by the Washington Post . . . he was Bladensburg's team MVP . . . he also was named MVP of the Girard (Ohio) Christmas Tournament, where he had 33 points, 14 rebounds and eight assists in the championship game . . . he led Bladensburg to a 21–3 record and into the regional finals . . . Bladensburg was the 3A/2A League champion . . . he played in the PG County All-Star Game and the Maryland vs. D.C. All-Star Game . . . he also started for the Largo area AAU team that finished in the nation's top 10 in the national tournament in Florida . . . he played at Bladensburg for Coach Bob Patterson . . . prior to playing for Bladensburg, McGlone had played at Largo as a freshman and McNamara as a junior . . . Personal—Born September 28, 1971 . . . he is majoring in education.

McGlone is Area's First

Much has been chronicled about high school basketball in the Baltimore/Washington corridor. The availability of some of the nation's best high school talent within shouting distance of the Maryland campus is not lost on Gary Williams. He and his staff know the importance of keeping the top local players at home for their college experience. Mark McGlone is the first local to heed Williams' call.

#21
Junior, Forward
6–6, 223
Bronx, New York

Might be the key recruit among this year's newcomers . . . he has two years of eligibility after a two-year stint at Coffeyville Community College in Coffeyville, Kan . . . he has the ability to be a force for the Terps right from the start . . . he can play either forward position, . . . he is an excellent rebounder for his size and has excellent range on his jumper . . . he runs the floor extremely well . . . though new to Maryland, his community college experience will allow him to assume a leadership role for the youthful Terps . . . At Coffeyville CC—He was a two-year starter and twice was the team's leading scorer . . . he averaged 22 points a game as a freshman and 16.1 points and eight rebounds a game as a sophomore . . . he was a Jayhawk East All-Conference selection both years and was an honorable mention All-American after his sophomore year . . . he was named to the East-West All-Star Game last year, and was selected as the East squad's MVP . . . he led CCC to a 18–13 record this past season and finished his career as the school's No. 3 all-time scorer . . . He played at Coffeyville for Coach Ben Graefe . . . High School—Graduated from Evander Childs High School, but did not play basketball for the school . . . instead, he played for the nationally-recognized Riverside Church AAU team . . . he played for Our Savior Lutheran High School as a junior, leading the team to the state championship —beating a team led by Kenny Anderson in the finals . . . he was coached at Riverside by Ernie Lorch . . . Personal—Born December 18, 1969 in Jamaica and moved to New York in 1978 . . . he has five sisters and one brother, all living in New York . . . he is majoring in radio, television and film.

A Team with Potential

Garfield Smith played AAU basketball for the renowned Riverside Church team of Manhattan. During Smith's career with Riverside, through the 17 & under, 19 & under and 19 & over ranks, Riverside never lost a national tournament. It's not surprising, considering the young talent Riverside had assembled. Among Smith's AAU teammates were: Kenny Anderson (now at Georgia Tech), Anthony Cade (Louisville), Brian Reese (North Carolina) and Malik Sealy (St. John's).

MIKE THIBEAULT

Freshman, Guard
6–2, 169
Glen Burnie, Maryland

A walk-on who head coach Gary Williams added in the preseason as much for his work ethic as his outside shot . . . fiercely competitive and is always hustling . . . strong fundamentally . . . he most likely will play the off guard, but may be able to get some minutes at small forward . . . decided to attend Maryland over a number of Division II and III basketball offers because of its School of Engineering, but had always dreamed of playing basketball for Maryland . . . he gave some thought to trying out for Maryland's soccer team, but wanted to give his first love, basketball, a shot . . . High School—Played at Glen Burnie High School . . . led the Metropolitan area in scoring last year with a 29.9 points per game average . . . he was a three-year starter and the team's leading scorer as a junior and a senior . . . team MVP both seasons as well . . . he was a first team all-state selection in basketball as a senior and was a two-time all-state pick in soccer . . . he was named the area's Player of the Year by the Annapolis Capital . . . Personal—Born February 29, 1972, a leap year child which makes his current age 4 1/2 . . . he is the youngest of four . . . his last name is pronounced TEE-bow . . . he played this summer in the Kenner League on the same team as Maryland teammates Matt Roe, Garfield Smith and Mark McGlone . . . during the fall testing drills, he ran a 4.9 40-yard dash and had a 27-inch vertical jump . . . he is enrolled in a civil engineering curriculum.

What A Day

If you think you had a rough day, consider Mike Thibeault's daily grind during the fall semester. The freshman civil engineering major has 8 a.m. classes every day. Those classes go continuously till 3 p.m. Basketball practice begins daily at 3:30 and lasts until 6 p.m. After an hour for dinner, Thibeault heads to the campus computer lab for two to three hours, then to his dorm room for some chemistry and calculus work. "I usually study those two subjects till I can't see straight and then I go to bed . . . usually it's about 3 a.m. by that time."

Gary Williams: Made quite a positive impression in his first year on the ACC's sidelines.

Walt Williams: The only player in the ACC last season to rank in the league's top 10 assists, steals and blocked shots.

The Atlantic Coast Conference's 1990 All-Star team had a distinctly Maryland flavor. Of a traveling party of 16, including players, coaches, administrative and medical staffs, seven members of the party had Maryland ties.

The All-Stars, who swept a six-game tour through Germany, were led by Maryland Head Coach Gary Williams. Williams was joined on the summer staff by assistant coach Billy Hahn, assistant athletic director Jeff Hathaway (and his wife, Paula), trainer Bill Saylor, and team doctor Pete Lavine.

That Maryland contingent was joined on the team of 10 by Terrapin players Matt Roe and Cedric Lewis. Roe was the team's third leading scorer, averaging 15.0 points a game on the tour. He led the team in scoring in two of the six games. As is Gary Williams' style, he coached an uptempo game to the delight of the German spectators and his team. The all-stars averaged 114.5 points on the tour and never failed to surpass the century mark in any of the six games.

The tour, sponsored by Champion Products, Inc., was the second such tour for the ACC in as many years. In the summer of 1989, an ACC all-star team traveled to Greece.

1990 ACC All-Stars: (Kneeling, L-R) Bill Saylor, trainer, Matt Roe, Maryland, Bill McCaffrey, Duke, King Rice, UNC, George Lynch, UNC. (Standing, L-R) Billy Hahn, assistant coach, Kenny Turner, Virginia, Wayne Buckingham, Clemson, Cedric Lewis, Maryland, Matt Geiger, Georgia Tech, Tom Gugliotta, N.C. State, Anthony Tucker, Wake Forest, Gary Williams, Head Coach, Pete Lavine, team doctor, Jeff Hathaway, team administrator.

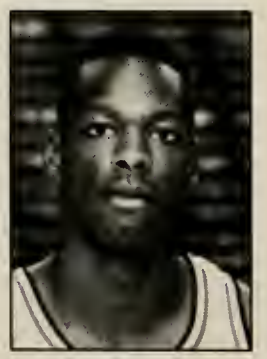
ALL AMERICANS

LOUIS "BOSEY" BERGER

6-2, Forward
Played: 1929-32
All-American: 1931 &1932

ON BERGER — Considered one of the greatest athletes in the history of Maryland athletics . . . a two-time All-America selection — an amazing feat, considering Maryland was an agricultural school at the time and not thought of among the athletics giants . . . considered one of the best all-around players of his time . . . led Maryland to the 1931 Southern Conference Championship, averaging a Conference-high 19.1 points per game over the nine-game conference season . . . also played baseball, and signed a contract with the Cleveland Indians upon graduation . . . played in the major leagues for six years, with Cleveland, Chicago and Boston . . . left baseball with a .236 lifetime average

LEN BIAS



6-8, Forward
Landover, Maryland
Played: 1982-86
All-American: 1986

ON BIAS — Unanimous choice on almost every All-America squad following his senior season . . . had been a third team selection in 1985 . . . only Terrapin ever to be named ACC Player of the Year twice (in 1985 and 1986) . . . the Terrapins all-time leading scorer with 2,149 career points . . . he owns the school's top two single season scoring marks — his 743-point total in 1985-86 is No. 1 alltime and his 701-point total in 1984-85 is No. 2 . . . he led the ACC in scoring two straight years . . . his best single game scoring performance, 41 points at Duke, ranks as the second-best single game mark in school history and the top performance by a Terp in a road game . . . he is No. 8 on the Maryland career rebounding list with 745 total boards . . . he also is No. 5 on the school's career block shot list . . . he was No. 2 pick overall in the 1986 National Basketball Association college draft, taken by the Boston Celtics.

LEN ELMORE

6-9, Center
Springfield Gardens, New York
Played: 1971-74
All-American: 1974

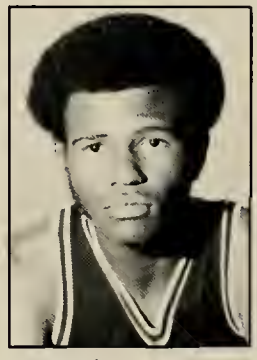
ON ELMORE — The best rebounder in Maryland history and one of the nation's best ever . . . rebounding prowess earned him a spot on most 1974 All-America squads along with offensive-minded teammates Tom McMillen and John Lucas . . . is the only player in Maryland history with more than 1,000 career rebounds (1,053) . . . his 1973-74 season average of 14.7 boards a game is the school's single-season record . . . his career rebounding average of 12.2 a game also is the Maryland record in that category . . . he owns six of the top 9 single game rebounding marks in school history and two of the top three season totals . . . his 412 rebounds in the 1973-74 season is the school record . . . was a three-time All-ACC performer and the team's Most Valuable Player in 1972-73 and its Outstanding Senior in 1973-74 . . . was drafted in the first round of the 1974 NBA college draft by the Washington Bullets, but chose to sign with the Indiana Pacers of the American Basketball Association . . . spent 10 seasons in the ABA and NBA with the Pacers, Milwaukee Bucks, New Jersey Nets and New York Knickerbockers . . . upon leaving professional basketball, he enrolled in Harvard Law School and graduated in 1987 . . . he is the first former professional player to graduate from the prestigious law school . . . he currently is a basketball analyst for CBS Television.

ALBERT KING

6-7, Forward
Brooklyn, New York
Played: 1977-81
All-American: 1981

ON KING — One of the most prolific scorers in school history, King is one of only a handful of Maryland players to average in double figures in each of his four seasons . . . ranks as the No. 2 all-time Maryland scorer with 2,058 points, only 88 points behind fellow All-American Len Bias on the school's charts . . . his career scoring average of 17.4 points per game is the fifth best in school history . . . his 38 points in an ACC Tournament game against Clemson is the fourth best individual game performance on the Maryland books . . . he shared the 1980-81 team Most Valuable Player Award with Buck Williams after winning the award outright in 1979-80 . . . he was the ACC Player of the Year in 1979-80 and a first team All-ACC pick again in 1980-81 . . . he came to Maryland generally regarded as the nation's top high school recruit, having averaged 38.6 points and 22 rebounds a game as a prep senior . . . certainly lived up to that billing at Maryland and went onto star in the NBA . . . picked in the first round — 12th selection overall — by the New Jersey Nets in the 1981 NBA college draft . . . his older brother, Bernard, is a former NBA scoring champion and plays with the Washington Bullets.

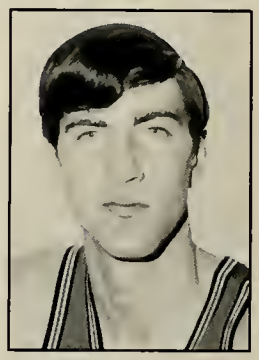
JOHN LUCAS



6-4, Guard
Durham, North Carolina
Played: 1972-76
All-American: 1975 & 1976

ON LUCAS — Generally regarded as the greatest guard in the history of the Maryland basketball . . . a two-time All-America selection and three-time All-ACC first team performer— the only Maryland player ever to earn that conference distinction . . . is the No. 3 scorer in Maryland history with 2,015 points . . . his 564 points in the 1973-74 season is the 10th-best single season output in school history . . . he is No. 2 on the school's career assists list . . . in the years when Lucas manned the point guard position, the Terrapins enjoyed their best seasons in terms of national finishes . . . the Terps finished No. 8 (1973), No. 4 (1974) and No. 5 (1975) in the final Associated Press polls in those three seasons with Lucas at the helm . . . was also a collegiate star in tennis, a sport in which he was a two-time ACC singles champion and once earned that title in doubles . . . was the No. 1 pick in the 1976 NBA college draft, taken by the Houston Rockets . . . he retired from professional basketball last September, after 14 years in the NBA.

TOM McMILLEN



6-11, Forward
Mansfield, Pennsylvania
Played: 1971-74
All-America: 1974
Academic All-American: 1972, 1973, &1974

ON McMILLEN — The quintessential team leader— both on and off the court . . . averaged 20.5 points and 9.8 rebounds during his three-year varsity career, while setting an example off the court by being selected all three years to the prestigious Academic All-America team . . . one of only three players to average more than 20 points per game in successive seasons and the only player in school history with a career scoring average above 20 points per game . . . he owns two of the top seven single season scoring marks and four times in his career scored more than 30 points in a ballgame . . . is the No. 5 career scorer in school history and the top scorer among players who were only eligible for three years (freshmen were not eligible for the varsity during McMillen's career) . . . he led Maryland to the 1972 National Inviational Tournament Championship, earning Most Valuable Player of the tournament . . . he went on to play for the United States in the 1972 Olympic Games, where the USA earned the silver medal in its controversial game with the Soviets . . . played in the NBA for 11 seasons with Buffalo, Atlanta,New York and Washington, but put his professional career on a one-year hold in order to fulfill his Rhodes Scholarship obligation by studying for a year at Oxford . . . was elected in 1986 to the U.S. Congress from Maryland's 4th Disrict.

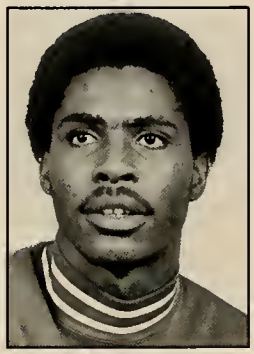
GENE SHUE

6-2, Forward
Baltimore, Maryland
Played: 1951-54
All-American: 1954

ON SHUE — Was the Terps' first high-profile basketball star . . . earned Converse and Helms Foundation All-America honors as a senior, when he averaged 21.8 points a game . . . owns the third best single game scoring total in school history, hitting for 40 points against Wake Forest in the 1959 Southern Conference Tournament . . . he was selected as the Most Valuable Player of that tournament . . . he was the school record holder in career scoring until 1974 when fellow All-American Tom McMillen assumed that role . . . still holds the No. 9 slot on the team's career list . . . enjoys a successful career as a head coach in the NBA with Los Angeles Clippers and has been previously the head coach of the Washington Bullets and Philadelphia 76ers.

CHARLES "BUCK" WILLIAMS



6-8, Center/Forward
Rocky Mount, North Carolina
Played: 1978-81
All-American: 1981

ON WILLIAMS — An outstanding scorer and extraordinary rebounder, Williams earned All-America honors after a junior season — his last in college ball — in which he averaged 15.6 points and 11.7 rebounds a game . . . he is the No. 3 rebounder in Maryland history with 928 career boards, third only to fellow All-American Len Elmore and recent Terp star Derrick Lewis . . . his career average of 10.9 rebounds per game is the second best average in school history . . . he was an equally adept shooter, averaging in double figures each of his three seasons and registering the school's best-ever field goal percentage . . . his 61.5 percent prowess from the field is the school career record . . . led the ACC in rebounding as a freshman in 1978-79, was third in 1979-80 and was second in 1980-81 . . . was a member of the 1980 United States Olympic Team that did not compete in the Moscow Games . . . applied for hardship placement in the NBA college draft and was selected as the No. 3 player overall by the New Jersey Nets . . . he was the NBA's Rookie of the Year in 1982 . . . he currently plays for the Portland Trailblazers, who he led to the NBA Finals in 1990.

The first and the most recent: Bosey Berger was Maryland's first All-American, while Len Bias was the Terps most recent selection.

TERP OLYMPIANS

The ultimate individual reward in amateur athletics is to represent his or her country in international competition. And with the right timing, talent and dedication, international competition can mean participation in an Olympiad. Three Maryland basketball players have been fortunate enough to represent the United States at such a level.

1980

Buck Williams (standing, fourth from right) was Maryland's representative on the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team. Although they never caught a chance to compete in Olympic competition because of the U.S. boycott, the '80 squad still is considered one of the strongest U.S. teams ever selected for international competition.

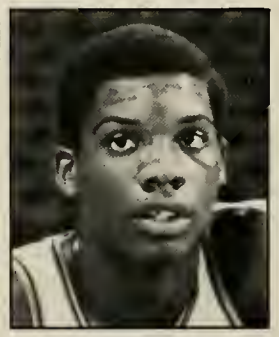
Buck Williams: The Terps' most recent Olympian.

TOM McMILLEN

1972 U.S. Olympian
Silver Medalist

Maryland's No. 5 career scorer and cornerstone to the highly successful Terp teams from 1972-75, McMillen represented the U.S. in 1972, when Coach Henry Iba's team earned a Silver Medal. An Oxford Scholar who spent 10 seasons in the NBA, McMillen was elected Congressman of Maryland's 4th District in 1986.

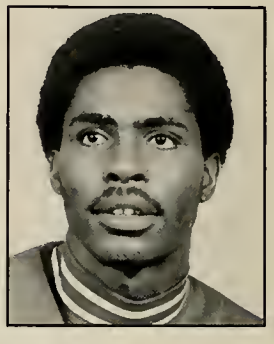
STEVE SHEPPARD



1976 U.S. Olympian
Gold Medalist

Known as the "Bear" to Maryland fans for his ferocious play on three nationally ranked teams during the mid-70's, Sheppard played for North Carolina coach Dean Smith's gold-medal winning 1976 Olympic squad. Sheppard helped the United States to a clean sweep of competition in the Montreal Games, and later played for the Chicago Bulls in the NBA.

BUCK WILLIAMS



1980 U.S. Olympian

Maryland's No. 3 career rebounder, Williams was a member of the 1980 Olympic Team. That squad, along with all other U.S. teams did not participate in that summer's Moscow Olympics, but won four of six games against various NBA All-Star teams and defeated the 1976 gold-medal winning American team.

1976

Steve Sheppard (middle of front row) of Maryland was one of seven ACC players on the 1976 Gold-medal USA Team, which was coached by the conference's own Dean Smith.

Tom McMillen (#13) of Maryland averaged 14 points per game for the 1972 U.S. Olympic Team. The '72 squad was coached by the legendary Hank Iba (standing, far right).

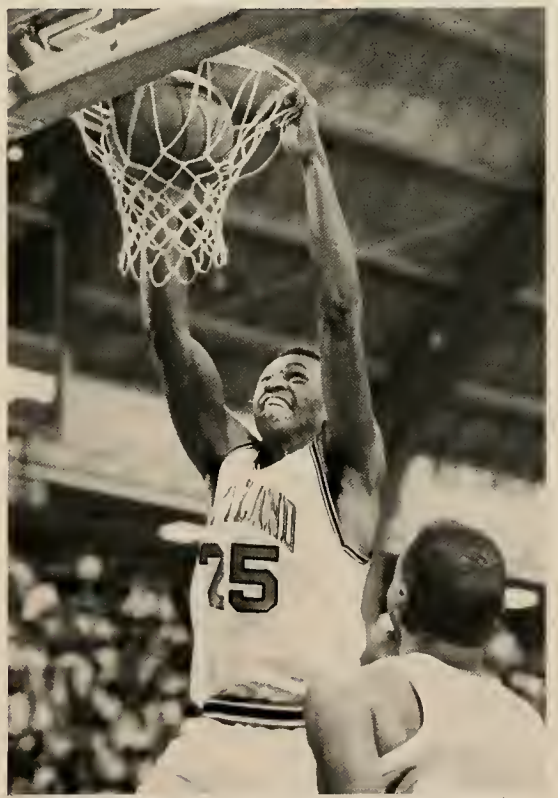
Breakdown:
Total picks 39
First-round picks 10
Second-round picks 7
Team with most Maryland picks—Philadelphia and Chicago 5

Jerrod Mustaf: After two seasons at Maryland, he took his versatile game to the Big Apple as a first round draft choice.



Tony Massenburg: A double figures scorer and rebounder last year at Maryland, his game fits in nicely with San Antonio's long-range plans.

NBA Found College Park

With forward Jerrod Mustaf selected in the first round (No. 17 overall) and power forward Tony Massenburg in the second (No. 43), the University of Maryland joined only six other schools to boast at least two selections in the National Basketball Association's annual college draft. Michigan, with three first round picks and one second, was the only school with more than two players selected. The other teams with two picks in the two-round draft were: Duke, Georgia Tech, Illinois, Texas and Xavier. Before the 1990 draft, the last time Maryland had two players picked in a single draft was 1985.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Maryland's basketball heritage extends beyond the confines of a 94-feet piece of hardwood. Men who competed for the University, graduated into careers as doctors, lawyers, businessmen, pilots and dozens of other professions. Brayton Still Enthusiastic

As a varsity basketball player, Neil Brayton never dazzled folks with his scoring average or rebounding prowess, but he earned the undying admiration of his teammates and coaches for his all-out hussle and enthusiasm for the game. Today, Brayton has lost none of that exuberance for the Terps. A dentist in Chestertown, Md. on the state's Eastern Shore, Brayton is a district chairman for the Terrapin Club, the athletic department's fundraising group. He also organizes an annual golf tournament on the Eastern Shore to support Maryland athletics. Says Brayton's former teammate and current Maryland head coach Gary Williams: "Every University needs people like Neil Brayton. He loves his University and he does whatever he can to show it."

TERP COACHING ALUMS

If Penn State is known for its linebackers, and Southern Cal for its tailbacks, Maryland surely is known for its basketball coaches. Consider that the coaches listed below all claim mail from the Maryland Alumni Office.

Dr. Tom Davis
Maryland Graduate Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
University of Iowa

Marty Fletcher
Maryland Class of '73
Currently Head Coach
Southwestern Louisiana

Joe Harrington
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
University of Colorado

Wayne Szoke
Maryland Class of '63
Currently Head Coach
Monmouth College

Terry Truax
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
Towson State University

Gary Williams
Maryland Class of '68
Currently Head Coach
University of Maryland

Tom Young
Maryland Class of '58
Currently Head Coach Old Dominion University

Ironically, coaches Fletcher and Szoke did not play basketball at Maryland, but became highly successful collegiate coaches. Davis did not play at Maryland either, but coached here while earning his doctoral degree. Coaches Harrington, Truax, Williams and Young all played and lettered for Maryland.

Find the Maryland coaches: There are four in this picture. Bud Millikan (standing far left) and Frank Fellows (standing far right) both were Maryland head coaches, while Joe Harrington (#50) was a Terp assistant and Gary Williams (#14) now runs the show.

The letter H: Former Terp lettermen Will Hetzel (top) and Jo Jo Hunter.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Dr. Gerald Gurney: The hands-on head of the Academic Support Unit.

The creation of the Academic Support Unit at Maryland puts the University's commitment to the student-athlete front and center. It is important to the University that each student-athlete grow academically and graduate, and to that end Academic Support has as large a presence as any sport program in the athletic department.

Dr. Gerald Gurney, Associate Athletic Director for Academic Support, oversees a program of intensive assessment, skill development and counseling that is offered to each student-athlete. Academic Support offers a comprehensive program for personal and academic development that includes the following:

* Personal academic career assessment
* Tutoring
* Supervised study
* Learning skill programs
* Academic monitoring
* Computer training and usage
* Career mentorship
* Summer internships
* Career awareness programs and job hunting

Dr. Gurney joined Maryland in 1987 after tenures at Southern Methodist and Iowa State, institutions which were lauded for their nationally recognized academic support programs. Dr. Gurney earned his Ph.D. in higher education administration from Iowa State in 1980. He holds a master's degree in counseling and student personnel work, and a bachelor of science in English education, both from Ohio State University.

Working with him is a distinguished staff that includes:

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston coordinates the development services arm of the Unit, organizing the student-athlete orientation, drug education and career programs. A licensed clinical psychologist. Dr. Adams-Gaston also coordinates the various counseling programs offered. She received her Ph.D. in counseling psychology from Iowa State in 1983.

Milvia Sadler: Coordinates academic programs including the Unit's extensive list of tutors.

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston: Handles counseling and developmental services for the ASU.

John Bowman is coordinator of academic counseling, and he directs the monitoring of student-athlete progress. In following each student-athlete's progress toward a degree, he makes use of his 19 years of campus knowledge acquired as an academic advisor at College Park. Bowman received a M.A. degree in education from Case Western Reserve University in 1976.

Milvia Sadler, a counselor in the Academic Support Unit, coordinates student-athlete study sessions, tutoring schedules and the bookroom. Sadler has her master's in counselor education from Penn State and a bachelor of arts in psychology from North Carolina.

The Academic Support Unit also operates a full-function computer room, which is available to all student-athletes. Among his duties in the Unit, Guy Hays monitors the computer lab.

The ASU also handles the increasing flow of paperwork which accompanies certification, student services, housing, financial aid and the like. Hays coordinates these services for the Unit.

In general, the resources of the University of Maryland's Academic Support Unit are second to none among the nation's university athletic departments.

John Bowman: Takes an involved, personal approach to academic counseling.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Preparing an athlete to play a particular sport is the mission of the Strength and Conditioning program at Maryland. Proper training leads to more confidence on the athlete's part, and translates into a competitive, ready Terrapin.

Strength and Conditioning is directed by Frank Costello, an extraordinary competitor and coach. As a Terrapin undergraduate, he was the third ranked high jumper in the world. NCAA Champion and four-time All-America. As a coach he led Maryland to both the IC4A Indoor and Outdoor team titles and was NCAA District Coach of the Year. Maryland's Strength and Conditioning Coordinator since 1981, Costello coaches the whole athlete. He is one of the leading authorities on the dangers of drug abuse in his profession, and is a frequent guest on network television, explaining the dangers of taking shortcuts to enhance the body.

Costello and Assistants Dwight Galt, Mike Vasalani, and Rich Nelson begin the road to physically preparing an athlete to play their sport by conferring with the sport's coach, and then testing and evaluating the individual. Weight training, speed training, flexibility training—all could be part of a balanced prescription to excel, depending on the sport.

Galt is on his second stint as part of the Maryland strength staff. He was an assistant strength coach in 1984 and 1985 under Costello, and rejoined the staff just prior to the start of the 1989 football season. Both he and Nelson, a starting offensive lineman for the Terps in 1987 and 1988, have their undergraduate degrees from Maryland. Galt also has a master's degree in exercise physiology and Nelson currently is working toward his master's. Vasalani is in his third year on the staff, after graduating from Slippery Rock in 1987. While at Slippery Rock, he was the National Collegiate Powerlifting Champion.

Maryland's commitment to strength and conditioning grows with the explosion of interest among athletes and coaches. Men's and women's sports, team and individual competition—every sport is involved. Two weight rooms now exist, with the facility expansion and refurbishment under The Maryland Partnership promising even better facilities in the future.

TERP RADIO

The JP Sports/Maryland Radio Network will again bring Terrapin fans the most comprehensive coverage of Maryland basketball via a 16-station network.

The flagship of the network is Washington D. C.'s WMAL, which will feed the signal over a network reaching Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and the District, as well as every corner of the state of Maryland.

Each game, play-by-play announcer Johnny Holliday and color commentator Greg Manning will set up the action with an informative pre-game show, provide special analysis during halftime and post-game shows and bring complete tip-off-to-final buzzer game action. Head Coach Gary Williams will be heard as part of the pre-game show and his post-game comments will be aired live immediately after each game.

Johnny Holliday

Play-by-Play

A nationally-recognized radio personality, Johnny Holliday is beginning his 12th season as the "Voice of the Terrapins." His varied professional resume includes ABC Radio work at the 1988 Summer and Winter Olympics, play-by-play stints on the ACC Basketball Television Network, weekly work as play-by-play man for the Maryland football team as well as the pre-game host for the Washington Redskins Football Network. All this, of course, in addition to his highly-regarded work as sports director for WMAL Radio in Washington.

In addition to his news and play-by-play work, Holliday serves as the host for the Maryland Coaches Corner, Gary Williams' weekly half-hour television show, which airs on Home Team Sports. In fact, Holliday can be found on a variety of HTS broadcasts.

Holliday and is wife, Mary Clare, are the parents of three daughters, Kellie, 30, Tracie, 27, and Moira, 12.

Greg Manning

Color Commentary

Beginning is fourth year as the color analyst for Maryland basketball is Greg Manning. A four-year starter for the Terps from 1978-81, Manning was the quintessential student-athlete. On the court, he ranked among the Atlantic Coast Conference most productive point guard, earning All-Tournament honors at the 1980 ACC Tournament while leading Maryland to the conference title. Three of Manning's four seasons, Maryland advanced to post-season play.

Off the court, Manning was in 1981 an Academic All-American, the Terps most recent such honoree. He was a three-time Academic All-ACC pick and earned a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship upon graduation.

When not broadcasting Maryland games, Manning is an executive with Roadway Express, Inc., a national freight moving company. Manning and his wife, Cathy have a son, Greg, Jr., 5, and a daughter, Courtney, 1.
